THE BIOGRAPHY

Lee Ara born in Jeju do in February of 1995. Daughter of one the most CEO's in this island. Her mom is the owner of a large chain of korean bbq's while her dad is the CEO of Jeju National University Hospital.

Her parents were always trying to have her over control and give her the best education as possible. Dreaming that one day she'll take the place of his dad in the hospital. Sadly she didn't have such an interest with medicine since she have a phobia of touching bones, so for being a doctor it wouldn't be a good idea.

The second option for their parents was that she will learn violin and be the best of the country so she would travel to France and be part of the most important orchestra in Versailles.

But instead of going to her music classes she will go to the forest and just enjoy her free time watching the animals and painting on her sketchbook any type of thing she liked.

Her childhood wasn't sad at all for an only child she'll met her best friend Jaehyuk who she used to escape with when she wanted to get away from her house to the forest and seashore in Seogwipo.

A CHANGE

After she was 17 Ara moved to Seoul to make her dreams come true to enter Seoul's University and be one of the best students of her age. Once she was all settle down in the school she realized that being a graphic designer wasn't enough for her.

One of her friends from Jeju called her and told Ara to take an audition in one of the most popular companies in Seoul. She felt nervous at first since singing for her was just to past the time while she was bored. After a few months of trying she was accepted and from then, her career as trainee started.

Now she have been trainee for three years, waiting finally to debut with the first girl group of the company. Being chosen to be the leader of the group and represent the best qualities of the members and their label.

For her luck she could managed iit pretty well studying and then train. In the semester of April - August she graduated from graphic design. Finally she could handle having a full time.
