Bio: Hernan Savastano is an indie-folk songwriter. Originally from Argentina, Hernan's family moved to the US as political refugees at the age of 10. Decades later he formed a folk/pop duo called the Sweetheart Army which gigged around Seattle. Gradually drawn to the healing power of music and plants, he began writing medicine songs in his native tongue (Spanish) and performing with his band called La Dulce Vida at several PNW festivals. More recently, Hernan has focused on family and running his wellness retreat center Snowgrass Lodge in Leavenworth, WA. His latest EP was inspired by his daughter Raina and his journey to fatherhood. Hernan will be joined by dear musical friends Nora Heath on vocals and ukulele and Benjamin Jay Thomas on percussion and guitar.
