

Devourer's writing comms

This is a test run to get some money and experience with commissions, further runs can and will be different.

Willing to do trades and collabs if I'm up to it and like your style

Rules:

- Payment is done through Paypal and is made from a starting fee (to be paid upfront when you are selected) and a word-based payment afterward, to be done in €. Check the exchange rate to avoid surprises
- I reserve the right to refuse any commission or stop progress on a commission for any reason
- You must provide me with proof all the characters you want to be featured have consented to it to avoid nasty surprises
- The starting fee can't be refunded
- Due to how writing works WIPs won't be provided
- After the story is done you must pay the amount you are told (payment plans possible)
- No refunds
- In the end, you'll be given a PDF linking both my page and yours at the end for posting to prevent theft and send traffic to us. You aren't allowed to edit this PDF in any way
- You must credit me when you repost it on your page and link it back to me

Prices:

5€ starting fee necessary for a queue spot, to be paid upfront.
0,035€ each word

I cannot provide an accurate price estimate in advance as the length of a story can vary, I am however willing to do payment plans, including if needed a higher upfront price, just talk to me and we can most likely figure it out

Surcharges:

At the moment these aren't finalized, but they'll be applied to stuff I'm less comfortable writing. They may come as an extra amount to be paid upfront and/or a percentage of the final price.

These are examples and can be raised, lowered, or waived as necessary as I iron out the kinks of the commission process:

25% rush fee (must give at least a week in advance)

1000% fee for keeping the story private

Other things that can raise prices can be stuff I'm not really experienced about (too many characters) or that I don't particularly enjoy (some NSFW, female preds)

Slots and waitlist:

At the moment I'll take three comms at a time, however, if I like your idea I can put you on a waitlist for you to hop in and wait for me to finish the slots. Afterward, I'll contact you and if you are still interested you'll pay the starting fee and enter an active slot