

Some time ago my grandfather saw a cream on a website. Website was absolutely not safe, but my grandfather didn't know anything about this. He decided to buy this for my grandmother. It was supposed to be just a gift, he wanted to be nice for her. He ordered this cream (which was really expensive obviously). To this day, there is no cream and no money. My grandfather fell victim to an internet scam.