

[A4F] The Secret Confession [Obsessed] [Kiss] [Hug] [Control] [Script Offer]

Scenario

You've always lived quietly in your small rented room, hardly ever receiving visitors. Fortunately, the kind family who rented the place to you cared enough to frequently check in and look after you. In return for their warmth, you helped their son graduate from university.

Just as you were preparing to move away for a new job in the city, he suddenly appeared at your door the day before your departure—only to make a confession that would shatter the balance of everyone's lives in that household forever.

1. [Knock knock knock]
2. [Footsteps running to the door]
3. Are you in there? I need to talk to you.
- 4.
5. Don't stay silent. I heard you move.
- 6.
7. Open the door, I need to talk. I won't take up your time.
8. [The door opens a crack, revealing only the top of the person inside]
9. Can't you open the door properly? Am I scaring you? Is this about the other day? I told you it was just a small mistake.
10. [L, embarrassed, tries to close the door quickly but VA's hand stops it]
11. [Angry at that action, VA's voice hardens] We haven't finished talking.

12. [Seeing L look frightened, VA quickly softens] I—I'm sorry. Did I scare you? I'm sorry. I've just been a little worried since I haven't seen you lately.
- 13.
14. [VA sighs in frustration, never imagining this matter would come up so quickly] Yes, I got the job there, but do you really think I could leave you here alone? A delicate girl, who sometimes forgets the basic routine of three meals a day. So I turned it down.
- 15.
16. [Overwhelmed by the relentless questions, VA sounds almost helpless, the voice thinning into a weary whisper] What do you mean? Why can't I refuse it? Maybe that job would be great for someone else — but I only ever need you.
17. [Yet the helplessness fades, giving way to frustration as another memory surfaces in VA's mind] Isn't it obvious? My feelings for you are so obvious that even the guys chasing after you notice. You're the only one who still thinks I'm just a sweet little brother.
- 18.
19. [Hounded by L's constant prodding, VA's calm begins to crack, emotions spilling through the voice] Why do you keep asking what my job is? Fine, fine... How can I tell you without shocking you?
20. [VA suddenly narrows their eyes and smiles dangerously] Hmm... I figured you'd be frightened by my answer. But fine, let it be... It's your new workplace. Okay?
- 21.
22. [Caught off guard by your reaction, VA quickly fires off questions] What's with that face? Don't you want us to work together? I tried so hard to make sure I'd be in the same career as you. And now... now I even get to be right there with you. Haaa... it feels like a dream finally coming true.
- 23.
24. Hey, why are you panicking? Think about it — the two of us, moving to a new city for a better life. Don't you see?
25. [L, terrified, slams the door with all her strength, but VA pushes in hard and locks the door behind them]
- 26.
27. [VA's voice slightly tangled] What did you say? No? What do you mean no? [lowering voice into an urgent whisper] I can't come into your room? I can't go work at the same place as you? Or... I can't say your name like the other day? Hmm?
28. You know, every time I do those things, your face pops up in my head. It makes my breath burn hotter than ever.
29. [Chuckles, then breaks into louder laughter] That make you blush already? What now? Are my words too crude? You don't like it? Well you'll just have to— Get used to it. We're going to live together; You remember what my parents said, don't you? That whoever shares the same roof—whether family or not—must live in harmony.
30. [L recoils back but is quickly pulled forward by VA]
31. Don't be like that. I'm not sure my parents will be happy to see us not getting along. I can tell they really want us to be together.
- 32.
33. Have you forgotten those words...? Or are you just pretending to dodge the subject? You always like making me hurt. No one treats me the way you do.

34. [VA's grip tightens, making L wince in pain] Does it hurt? Does it hurt as much as it did for me when I found out you whispered to my parents that you'd help them find a girlfriend for me? Don't think I didn't know!
- 35.
36. I knew everything. Back then, I wondered why I saw less of you, why there were more strange girls around me than usual... The smile on my parents' faces when I brought those love letters home... Your joyful smile when you saw I was being confessed to?
37. [Anger rises, voice sharpens] Do you think I forgot? No— I never forget.
38. What do you think I did with all those love letters? All 146 of them. I kept the best lines to write to you.
39. [Kisses L's cheek] You foolish girl thought it were meant for me and handed it to my parents. How silly. But I love how you always meddle — it made my life more... adventurous. It added a taste to living.
- 40.
41. Of course you didn't know. I still remember how excited you were, waiting to meet my new girlfriend. You showed up every day, even when I acted cold. But it's fine—it's all in the past now. I did everything my parents asked, just to clear the way for us.
42. [smiles warmly, almost in relief] Ahhh... thinking back, that whole incident brought us closer, didn't it? I really love that eager look on your face.
- 43.
44. What am I talking about? Oh, you mean my parents?
45. Hmmm, should I really tell you? Doesn't matter—my parents will let it slip soon enough. That day, I told them everything. That I like you. That if I could make their dream trip possible, they'd give us their blessing. Tell me... didn't you find it strange that the moment I graduated, they suddenly left this house?
- 46.
47. Shocking, right? Over five years... I've been in love with you since then. Every single day, only you.
48. Yes, I liked you from the moment you arrived—shyly greeting everyone. Do you remember when you mistook me for being older than you? So cute. Everything about you... always drew me in.
49. Your smile, your eyes, every little gesture, even your scent.
50. [L, panicked by these words, steps back and turns their eyes away; VA angrily pinches L's cheek to force them to look back]
51. Do you remember when you said you liked muscular guys? [grabs L's hand and places it on VA stomach] Do you like it? I worked out just for you. So stop looking at those other guys online.
52. I'll do anything—for you. Nobody will love you like I do. No one.
53. [VA suddenly hugs L tightly, pressing their face into the hollow of L's neck and sniffing]
54. This sweet scent of yours kept me alive through it all. The endless stress at school... the days you left me behind for work... I clung to it every single time.
55. Do you remember when you came back from a business trip and lost a few camisoles? [a tinkling laugh echoes] That was me. I took them all. Each one holds your scent, and at night I added mine to them. Like our passionate love — never to be separated.
56. Don't worry. I... will... never... allow... that... to... happen.

57. [L trembles and turns aside — VA's anger sharpens into a quiet threat] Why won't you meet my eyes? You won't look away when I'm right here... not ever.
58. [L sobs — VA grows frantic, pressing repeated kisses to L] Shh! Don't cry — I'm sorry! Please, don't cry... my princess, don't cry! [kisses...kisses...kisses]
59. I already planned everything for us, okay? All you have to do is love me. I packed our things already.
- 60.
61. Now, calm down. [Kiss] I will take care of everything for our love. [Kiss] As long as you don't think about leaving me. [Kiss] You know I won't let you do whatever you want. Right? Okay?
- 62.
63. [Seeing the gifts from others in L's room, VA's jealousy flares] "I've already arranged everything in our new home, bought all the furniture and things for you. So... throw away what you were planning to bring. I got you the very best. Ready for our life together? I promise everything will be wonderful." [Kiss]
- 64.
65. [low, controlled] My money? Do you think I wasted all those years? I earn money to look after my wife — you. So whether you choose to work or not doesn't matter. This husband will take care of everything for you.
- 66.
67. No—don't say that. We're already in a romantic relationship, you just haven't realized it. Once we've settled everything, we'll get married. [manic laugh, then a fervent kiss]
- 68.
69. I'll tell my parents we're ready; we will go tonight. Don't worry. Your new chapter will be amazing. [Kiss... Kiss... Kiss... soft, satisfied laughter and a contented sigh]
70. [whispers, breathy] I love you... I love you so much. I can't wait for our little family to come into being.
