Considering the Future – Sorting and Aligning

Of the five models for the future of higher education presented in the Deloitte report, which one most aligns with our values and aspirations most? (Let's share thoughts here...we may or may not agree...but let's have a bit of a running dialogue if need in this space.)

Then, using the original "Overarching Ideas About Preferred Futures for Portland State University" - please pull over some refined statements (brief statements) about each of these topics as we continue to build collective focus on what matters most to us and move closer to being in a position to share a unified list of recommendations to President Percy.
