

Subject Line : New era, new approaches

Hi Paras,

Your Instagram reels about treating the stock market as gambling took my attention this morning.

And hey it does make sense, we can't really expect to be a profitable trader in months because great things take time.

Honestly, I can't understand your language but I do understand that what you're offering to your audience is valuable stuff, such as the upcoming exponential growth live workshop.

And it's off the track how you're urging readers to get themselves enrolled by looping the time limit for your offer.

Your opt-in page got me hyped as I read your words "Make The Most Out Of This Giant Pool Of Money".

But something like "Get Yourself Floating In The Pool Of Heaven" would tap the reader's heart and soul more deeply.

Since you have 20 days left for the live workshop, tweaking your opt-in page could result you in building an indestructible customer base.

I rewrote the whole opt-in page for you.

Would you like to see?

Best regards,
Aqib

