

Cubot: Hey Orbot, wanna hear a joke?

Orbot: Well, if it lets us segway into the interview, sure why not.

Cubot: What's the one thing Stan has that's bigger than his chin?

Stan: I don't know, what is it?

Cubot: His collection of speedrun world records!

Stan: Hahaha! It's funny because it's true!

Orbot: Alright enough with the quips! We've got an interview to do, and no time to waste!

Stan: Why? Are you trying to set a world record?

Orbot: No, I've just got eggman's daily work to do.

Cubot: Anyways let's move on to the questions!

Orbot: Good idea! First question, how did it feel to win against porygon?

Stan: Well obviously it felt spectacular! At first, but then I realized how sad porygon's loss made them feel. So I gave them a small pep talk afterwards, and look at them now! They've already beaten that cyberpunk girl!

Cubot: That's so encouraging to hear! Porygon I hope you're watching this!

Orbot: I must agree with you there! So with that, do you think porygon has a chance against the prince, or the boosters in his next match?

Stan: Well if I had to make bets, my money's on porygon for both of them. I mean what could a phone salesman or a trash collector do against someone who can transport themselves into computers?

Orbot: Well uh, it's not really about physical strength, but that must be great for porygon to hear!

Cubot: Speaking of matches, how do you feel about your next match?

Stan: Those old rapper guys? Piece of cake! There's no way I could lose to lowly office workers!

Orbot: Aren't you an office worker yourself?

Stan: No! I'm a CIA worker who works in an office! Plus I've got the speedrunning edge anyways.

Orbot: Uh-huh, Alright one last question before we call it off!

Cubot: This one comes from Roger Smith!

Stan: Oh great, what happened with him this time?

Cubot: He says, "Hey Stan, I'm just letting you know in advance that I'm borrowing your That's So Raven tapes to binge watch them. Guess you could say I'm speedrunning them!".

Stan: NO, HE MIGHT DAMAGE THEM!

Orbot: Y'know Stan I never took you for a That's So Raven fan.

Cubot: Don't tell anyone, but I'm a fan myself!

Stan: N- no I didn't scream because of that. I screamed because... I could tell something was burning. Yeah, Roger probably tried to use those tapes as cooking videos, what a moron!

Snoo: Erm, how can you tell? You're nowhere near-

Stan: I can sense it with my, uh, speedrunning powers. You wouldn't know since you never bothered trying anything new in your life.

Snoo: GRAH! He's right!

Stan: Anyways, if you'll excuse me, i'll be attempting the world record for the running to my house speedrun.

And with that the cia agent clipped through one of the studio walls, and began running & jumping as fast as he could.

Cubot: Should we do something about that?

Orbot: No, I checked out some of his other speedruns, he'll be back in time.
