

Project Based Learning

Critical Friends Group Tuning Protocol

(Modified from National School Reform Faculty, Tuning Protocol)

You will need a timekeeper.

1. Share with the group your unit topic and your driving question. Share with the group what you want the students to learn and accomplish. (1 minutes)
2. Ask the group a question to guide their analysis of your work. You might ask, for example, is the driving question provocative enough to sustain the inquiry of students for a three week unit? Or, how might I more fully integrate authentic experiences/experiential learning in this inquiry process?(1 minute)
3. The group will have time to write down comments and respond to your prompt. (2 minutes)
4. The group will have time to give you feedback. (4 minutes)
5. You will then have time to ask clarifying questions and respond to the feedback. (2 minutes)
6. Switch.