

Ash. That was all that was left of him.

Mark was born in an Oasis. In the middle of the Sahara Desert. Can you believe that? Having to give birth to a child in the Sahara Desert. That is insane. Mark's parents were one of the most wanted criminals throughout all the criminals in the multiverse. When Mark was born his parents were forced to leave him to keep him hidden from all those who targeted his family. Mark's parents earned all their income by smuggling dark matter from one universe to another. However, one thing was different about this transportation. It was illegal. Mark's parents managed to store the dark matter inside capsules and shrink the capsules down the the size of an atom and if they did it correctly, they could ship the capsule from one universe to another by noon the same day it was shipped.

However, after a few stunts pulled off by Mark's parents risking death to complete high profile deliveries, Mark's parents were the most wanted by every anti-smuggling unit in every single universe.

Dark Matter is a substance that can give anybody powers if they use it correctly. Smuggling this is dangerous because if it gets into the hands of the wrong person, the universe could end.

After getting on the most wanted list throughout the multiverse, Mark was left alone to live his life on his own. When Mark was left alone a man named Sonic found him. Sonic was one of the most trained fighter jet pilots in the multiverse. Growing up Sonic trained Mark in fighter jet piloting.

After years of training, Mark developed a well known reputation. However Sonic began to get jealous. He got heated after Mark grew to be more popular than him. To blow off steam Sonic began to sabotage Mark's jet. Once Mark realized Sonic was doing this he was devastated.

Mark confronted Sonic and they were at a standoff. Mark had decided to destroy Sonic's 1999 Crown Champion Trophy Jet Racing Tournament. This angered Sonic to a point he was going to kill Mark. Mark got into his jet and Sonic chased him through the sea, through gaps in the canyons, under arches, everywhere. However, Sonic got too caught up in the action that when Mark turned he did not make the turn.

He was gone. He missed the turn. He flew off the clip and right into the volcano. Forgetting the competition Mark came to try and aid Sonic. However all that was left was a grey powdery substance, ASH. All that was left of him was ash.

Mark was devastated. He emptied his pockets for anything he could remember for him, and all he found was his ID card.

The next day Mark went to the Avalon, aka burial site. To show modesty all Mark drove was his van. He did not want to fly his jet to show respect. But then Mark realized. He could use dark matter. The dark matter his parents smuggled was hidden inside his carrier as a child and it could bring Sonic back to life. Doing so, Mark injected Dark Matter into Sonic's body and it brought him to life. Mark knew this would happen because it was his final lesson.

Sonic taught Mark to think and respect the person. No matter the competition, believe and respect the competition
