

Masterpieces in Voxel Art YouTube Channel: Terms & Conditions, License Details, Attributions, and Disclaimers

Overview

- Affiliation: This channel is not endorsed by or affiliated with Mojang or Microsoft. Some gameplay elements featured in the intros are not official. All music tracks used on the channel are sourced from the YouTube Audio Library and/or AudioJungle, and are not part of the official Minecraft soundtrack. This inclusion ensures a rich auditory experience while respecting copyright regulations.
- Gallery Attribution: The gallery used for this project to showcase my recreations is by JulianDavit, available at Minecraft Schematics. It was the best one available for my purpose.
- I am not associated with, nor have I been asked to showcase these works by any gallery or estate.
- Selection Criteria: All images selected for recreation have been chosen to maintain a neutral perspective and to avoid offending any individual or group. The artworks included were carefully curated based on a thorough review of The Art Wolf's list of important painters and WikiArt, ensuring that only public domain works (created over 75/100 years ago) are recreated. Appropriate attributions and license links are provided where necessary to comply with copyright standards.
- Research Process: The selection process involves comprehensive research to ensure compliance with copyright laws. Each potential artwork undergoes scrutiny to confirm that it falls within the public domain, and this review is repeated as necessary to account for all copyright considerations.
- Note on Derivative Work: The pixel art adaptations featured in this project represent significant creative input. This includes careful consideration of block selection, image orientation, sizing, dithering, and overall design choices, distinguishing these creations as derivative works. Each piece is developed with the intention of adding unique artistic expression while respecting the original works.

Credits:

Each pixel and voxel art recreation featured in this series includes adaptations of original works licensed under Creative Commons or public domain, with software support from PixelStacker \(MIT License\). All reworks are created in Minecraft by the Masterpieces in voxel Art YouTube Channel, using blocks as a digital medium.

Licenses Applied

- The original pixel art and voxel creations by Masterpieces in voxel Art are licensed under CC BY-NC-SA 4.0, while all Minecraft assets are used under Mojang/Microsoft's guidelines. CC BY-NC-SA 4.0, allows others to remix and build upon the work non-commercially, as long as they credit you and license their new creations under the identical terms”

- All images recreated via PixelStacker can be considered derivative works
- All Minecraft assets and related content are the property of Mojang/Microsoft. This project may generate ad revenue as part of a transformative, non-commercial endeavor under fair use.
