BODY:

So far in this series we've looked at playing individual shots and then how to string them together into patterns...

Ultimately, certain patterns work better against certain types of opponents--and what type of opponent gives players the most trouble?

The dreaded pusher...

A pusher really has no strategy other than to just get the ball back in play. That's it.

There are a few things I like to do specifically against these types of opponents--today Brady is demonstrating 3 of them. Start using these and you'll never lose to the pusher ever again.
