Terms and Conditions

By commissioning me, you're agreeing to these terms;

- ★ Payment must be in USD currency and via PayPal only.
- ★ Payment must be made through invoice only; the client must send me their PayPal email so I can send the invoice once the commission has been fully discussed and priced.
- ★ I won't start working on the commission until we fully discuss the client's idea and I receive the full payment. No exceptions.
- ★ Once the piece is finished, the client accepts that there can't be any refund.
- ★ These terms may change, and the client must respect them no matter what.
- ★ The client must be +18 to be able to acquire this service.
- ★ The client acknowledges that I have my own art style and I won't change my stylistic choices for them.
- ★ The client acknowledges that after the payment is made, I can refuse to make any changes to the piece that weren't discussed before.
- ★ The client has the right to ask about the state of the commission and request pictures of the progress.
- ★ The client can request PSD files, but must let me know before starting the commission.
- ★ The client can do whatever they want with their commission once it's finished. However, the client mustn't profit from my art by selling merchandise or any other items that involve making money from my artwork without my consent. Creating prints, shirts, pins, or other items for personal use is acceptable.
- ★ The client understands and agrees to everything mentioned in this document and what's stated in the Basic info and clarifications, and Frequently Asked Questions sections.

Basic info and clarifications

★ How long a commission takes: The turnaround for a commission is usually from one to four weeks, depending on my time and how much time the client takes to reply. Please do not spam me every day and every hour asking how the commission is going. I will notify you when it's done; insisting won't make me work faster. If you're on the waiting list, you can check my queue to see if your turn is getting closer.

★ Communication: I always notify my clients when each phase of the piece (sketch, lineart, and coloring) is done. Clients will also be notified when the changes they requested are made. I always take up to a week to make the first sketch, so don't get nervous if I don't contact you back in that time.

★ Changes in the image and fixes: Major changes can only be made in the sketch for free. Please do not abuse this, and be clear when explaining what you want in your commission. If you are bad at communicating your ideas, don't worry. I'll try to explain what I can do for you before asking for any kind of payment and starting the piece. I can refuse to make any changes that weren't agreed upon before making the payment. Significant changes after the sketch phase will have a fee of around 5 - 15 USD, depending on the complexity of the change.

★ Refunds: I don't offer refunds unless I decide to do so. Please be sure you like my work before making any payment. If I decide to offer a refund, it's because I am unable to illustrate your idea or because the client is not happy with my work. Refunds will usually be made only during the sketch phase, and I will keep a small percentage of the price.

Frequently Asked Questions

★ Do you do private commissions? Yeah, just let me know, and I won't post your commission. I can also post your commission and keep you as an anonymous client. I post all my commissions by default, so let me know if you don't want that.

★ Do you work with deadlines? Yes, but it could have a fee depending on how fast I have to work. There's no set price for the fee.

★ How much do you charge for alts? Around 5 - 10 USD per version, depending on complexity. The price depends on what you have in mind.

★ Can you draw this fetish? As stated before, I usually can work with any fetish, just explain to me what it is, and I'll be fine. There might be some exceptions, so please be sure to explain everything first.

★ I don't have a reference for this character. Can you design it for me? Sure, but this will increase the price of your commission. It all depends on the complexity of the design of your character. There's no set price for this either.

★ What makes the commission increase its base price? Extra characters, complexity, and changes that were not discussed in the sketch phase. Full price info will be given before any kind of payment.
