

SL: Jackson Brown's Inspiration

Hi Jenny,

It's pretty inspirational for you to quote Jackson Brown saying "Don't wait for inspiration - it will find you" as most artists just need to get started to paint something beautiful.

Since you encourage people to listen to their inner voice,

I went ahead and wrote a Facebook Ad below to attract more artists to your magic world workshop.

I made it because you genuinely want to help aspiring artists get better at painting.

The Facebook Ad highlights key frustrations readers have about their creativity.

Which cranks up the pain until they sign up for your free workshop.

You can use it to grow your community of like-minded artists through Facebook.

If you liked the Ad, Would you like to know how this kind of writing (in the Ad) can help scale your business?

P.S. Why don't you have an Instagram storefront?
