

Hi Nat,

I have attached Brearnas results from her tests through SPELD. We will get a full report soon, which will explain these results and make suggestions about the next step for her. This may be tutoring one on one after school.

As you can see from the results she has tested extremely high for thinking ability and listening comprehension, but very poorly for short term memory, spelling, and reading.

As soon as I get the full report I will email you a copy and make a time to come in and talk to you about it.

Thanks,

Kylee
