

SWIPE #1 - VERTICAL 1 (Shaky Relationship): Guy Is Hot & Cold, Sends Mixed/Confusing Signals, Growing Distant, Doesn't Share His Feelings, Refuses To Commit (Relationship Is Shaky)

Is he acting HOT and COLD, sending mixed signals and refusing to commit?

Did he seem interested at first, only to suddenly pull away and act confusing... for no obvious reason?

But how can you be sure if he is serious or just playing around if you don't speak his strange language? And can you really even trust him?

If there's a strong connection between you... and you hope there's a future for your relationship...

The only way to make real progress and take your love to the next stage is to understand him on a deeper level...

But what can you do when his words don't align with his actions and when he is not yet ready to share his true feelings?

Well there is actually a way to know exactly how he thinks and feels even if he seems like a 'brick wall'...

Are you aware that the easiest and fastest way to 'read' a man and unlock the secrets to his heart is inside the 4,000 year old art and science of the stars?

Did you know that relationship Astrology can show you any man's hidden desires, behavior, way of thinking and unique personality based on his zodiac sign...

It can teach you how to overcome specific challenges and what mistakes to avoid in your relationship...

You can learn what pushes him away but also what pulls him in like gravity,

And it reveals the real reason behind his actions and decodes the meaning of his words right back to you,

You can then use this new knowledge to instantly “figure him out”... and push all the right buttons that trigger feelings of compatibility.

Because when you communicate in a language he understands and responds to... you click together and connect in a way no other woman in his life ever has.

My suggestion: don't call, talk to or send another text to until you study the secrets of his sign.

SWIPE #2 — Vertical 2 (Broken Relationship): He LOST Interest, He Pulled Away, She Pushed Him Away, She Made A Mistake, How Does She Pull Him/Win Him Back, He's Now An Ex

Did a guy pull away and lose interest just when things were getting serious between you?

Wondering if there's a way to win his love back? And can you restart your relationship... despite recent challenges or mistakes that pushed him away?

Perhaps there was a strong connection and chemistry, only for things to become more complicated than they had to?

But what if you still have feelings for him? Can you respark your love before it's too late?

Well the real problem is rarely lack of interest or connection, but a lack of deep understanding of each other's language and disregard of his unique personality.

Because when you are not communicating in the same language... it is as if you are not communicating at all.

Ignoring who he is can easily hurt his feelings or push him away, even with the best intentions...

A misunderstood word or two that sends the wrong message can make him feel distant and disrespected. Instantly making him question a relationship and pull away.

But recognize that he is different and start talking to him in a language he understands... and he instantly responds in your favor.

When he sees you in a new light he may quickly reconsider your love, especially when you are the One and Only person in his life that knows his inner workings.

What is this special language?

Are you aware that for over 4,000-years enlightened men and women have been using the art and science of the stars to their advantage... in life and love?

Did you know that this language can show you any man's unique character, needs, behavior and way of thinking?

Yes, it can also show you the path back to his heart... and the way to keep him for good this time.

Because when you communicate in a language he understands and enjoys...

And when you know exactly what he desires in a long-term partner... you click together and connect in a way no other woman in his life ever has.

Yes, this language is Astrology... and it can show you all the answers hidden inside his zodiac sign.

This is probably the easiest, fastest and most accurate way to 'read' a man and understand how his mind and heart actually work...

It can help you identify past mistakes and show you how to regain his attention and interest...

You can learn what pushed him away,

But also use this new knowledge to press the buttons that trigger feelings of compatibility and pull him back like gravity,

My suggestion: don't call, talk to or send him another text before you study the secrets of his sign.

SWIPE #3 - Vertical 3 (Fresh, Developing Relationship): He Is HOT And Interested But... She Wants to Understand Him And 'Read Him' even if he's hard to read, What Does He Really Want, How Does She Connect Deeper And Communicate, How Does She Develop This Relationship (Faster), How His Mind Works, Make The Relationship Stronger/Grow Love, She Is Afraid of Pushing Him Away or Making A Mistake - She Cares Too Much About Him To Risk Messing Up

Are you in love with a special man but don't yet fully understand him and how his mind works?

What if there is a strong connection and chemistry between you, but you feel you might get stuck or drift apart because you never met anyone quite like him...

Do you want to create a real relationship of love and passion, bring him closer and win him over completely?

Wondering how you can communicate and connect on a deeper level and move things forward, but are unsure about the best way to approach him?

How do you to read a man who may seem like a 'brick wall' and how do you discover what he really wants when he is not yet ready to open up about his feelings...?

Can you make him see you as 'The One' for him... but without appearing needy or pushing him away?

Well, the reason good relationships go stale is not a lack of interest or attraction, but a lack of deep understanding of each other's language and disregard of his unique personality.

Because when you are not communicating in the same language... it is as if you are not communicating at all.

Ignoring who he is can easily hurt his feelings or push him away, even with the best intentions...

But recognize that he is different and start talking to him in a language he understands... and he instantly responds in your favor.

When you are the One and Only person in his life that knows his inner workings this creates a connection like no other.

What is this special language and how can you speak it?

Are you aware that the easiest and fastest way to keep a man hooked and in love is inside the 4,000 year old art and science of the stars?

Did you know that relationship Astrology can help you fully understand his hidden desires, behavior, way of thinking and unique personality even if he is 'hard to read' or refuses to openly share his feelings...

You can learn what pushes him away and what mistakes to avoid, but also what pulls him in like gravity,

What makes him chase you and want to be with you in a serious relationship... what hooks and keeps his interested and attention focused on you and you alone,

It reveals what he really wants in life, love and partnership and how you can connect in a way he enjoys and responds to.

You can then use this new knowledge to push the buttons that trigger feelings of compatibility and love, even if your signs are not considered an 'ideal combination.'

Because when you understand and speak the language of his sign... you click together in a way no other woman in his life ever has.

My suggestion: don't call, talk to or send another text to until you study the secrets of his sign.
