

Welcome to Bedcord: A Dreamy Escape

9:00 PM, Friday. It's been a rather fun week for our fair maiden.

After being near Mt. Fuji for a couple days, Nadeshiko returns home with a huge smile on her face, with her sister mildly annoyed behind her.

Nadeshiko: Good evening everyone!

Nadeshiko's mother (Shizuka): Good evening dear. I assume you had fun as usual?

Nadeshiko: Yep! It was comfy as usual!

Nadeshiko's father (Shūichirō): Always nice to see you as your energetic little self.

Nadeshiko's sister (Sakura): I'd agree though sometimes driving her around can be a bit of a hassle.

Both of Nadeshiko's parents have a huge laugh at Sakura's expense

Shizuka: By the way, we made some food for you two while we waited for you.

Nadeshiko: You did?!

Sakura: Oh boy, you started her.

Shizuka: There should be some rice with soup for the both of you.

In an instant, Nadeshiko darts into the kitchen, sitting down anxiously waiting for her sister.

After Sakura catches up with her, they have a rather quick dinner. Nadeshiko has a huge smile on her face as she eats everything.

Nadeshiko: Thanks for the food! I'm rather tired myself...

Sakura chuckles

Sakura: I'm surprised you have the ability to get tired.

Nadeshiko: Goodnight everyone...

Nadeshiko yawns, and quickly walks to her room, and just as quickly as she walks in, she hits her bed with a satisfying floomp, unconsciously snuggling right into her blanket.

As Nadeshiko sleeps, she visits another world, one that exists in her dreams, but filled with tons of wonderful and colorful characters, one that's nice and serene, and basically the most comfy place a girl like her could be.

As she sleeps, she sees herself escaping a watery portal made of stars, seemingly inside a square shaped set of walls topped with domes. As she steps into the ground here made of blankets, only one thing is on her dream filled mind at this moment.

Nadeshiko: It's always fun to visit Bedcord!
