Crescent Ridge - Local Dairy

Crescent Ridge, our family-owned and operated farm and a Dairy of Distinction*, has been dedicated to delivering the freshest, tastiest products to our customers since 1932 when Malby Parrish started making his rounds in his 1928 Chevrolet milk truck.

Like we did so many years ago, Crescent Ridge still produces small batch milk that is pasteurized, homogenized, and bottled in glass right here at the farm to preserve the taste of the milk the way it should be, creamy, rich, and delicious.

Moose Hill Wildlife Sanctuary and CSA

About Moose Hill

Moose Hill is Mass Audubon's oldest wildlife sanctuary, encompassing protected forests, fields, and wetlands. Diverse hiking trails and a red maple swamp boardwalk provide countless opportunities for exploration in addition to seasonal programs and summer day camp.

Moose Hill also hosts a farm share program from late spring through early fall to provide fresh, organic vegetables from their farm to your table.

Share Sharon

This group was created when the Buy Nothing Sharon group decided to split apart. Our members felt like Sharon should stay as one community. Thus, we moved over to this group to continue exchanging freely given goodies, reducing our environmental impact, and getting to know our neighbors without the organizational restrictions of the greater Buy Nothing project. To join us, click "Join Group" and answer all three questions. Feel free to contact admins Jeannie Capone, Anna Belak, or Henry Saniuk with any questions about membership in this group. Although we are not part of the Buy Nothing Project, our existence was inspired by their movement. We don't feel like giving them free click-throughs, so google them if you're curious.

Sharon Saves

The goal of Sharon Saves is to help Sharon home owners reduce their reliance on carbon based energies while saving money. We do this by offering incentives . . .

Sustainable Sharon Coalition

The Sustainable Sharon Coalition is a group of citizens working towards a vision of Sharon as a leading sustainable community.

To this end we work with neighbors, elected officials, and town staff to promote measures that conserve and sustain our community's use of natural & man made resources in order to take part in the global effort to protect our planet.

The Last Plastic Straw in Sharon

The Last Plastic Straw Sharon MA is my way of joining the movement and kind of starting in my own backyard. I was hoping to educate people, find others who are interested in helping this cause and eventually spreading the movement outside of Sharon.

Ward's Berry Farm

Ward's Berry Farm is a family farm located in Sharon, MA. Brothers Jim & Bob Ward have run the farm since 1982, offering the finest quality fresh picked fruits and veggies. Their mother, Ann uses family favorite recipes to create her famous fruit jams and jellies, as well as the fresh cookies, muffins, breads and pies sold in the store.

Our shelves are stocked with a large selection of gourmet grocery items and prepared foods to go. The store has an awesome sandwich counter and deli, as well as a smoothie bar with soft-serve ice cream and slush. We also specialize in artisan breads, gourmet cheeses, homemade jams and gift baskets made to order. In spring & summer, bedding plants, hanging baskets and perennials fill our greenhouses. We offer pick-your-own strawberries, blueberries and pumpkins in season. There are public hayrides during strawberry & pumpkin seasons. Birthday parties & school tours are available year-round by reservation. We have many picnic areas, kids play areas and farm animals.

Challenge yourself to our hay pyramid in the fall. For Thanksgiving, we offer fresh native turkeys and we have beautiful trees, wreaths and garlands for Christmas.
