

About TRP Extended Campaigns

Enjoy all new custom content created for you by player quest designers with TRP Extended Campaigns! These bespoke quests utilize in-game mechanics and assets to immerse you in an interactive story that's so much more than just your usual fetch or kill quest.

They can trigger events based on a wide variety of criteria like if your character is swimming, their coordinates, and even what time of day it is! They can show you custom cutscenes that the quest designer creates, play in-game music and sounds, add debuffs and buffs to you, let you loot custom TRP items, and they can even override dialogue from existing in-game NPCs to provide completely new content for you to enjoy.

Importing a TRP Extended Campaign, Item, or Other Creation

Importing a creation

To import a quick export of a creation, open the Extended objects database and click on the "Quick object import" button. Paste the string of characters you've copied earlier in the textbox that appears (as for export, it might freeze the game for a few seconds depending on the size of the creation) and press Import.

If the creation contains effects that are deemed insecure, you will be warned about them and be given the option to allow them. Once this is done, the creation will be added to the Players and Full databases.
