What to do if the Insurrection Act is invoked in Minnesota

With the Insurrection Act looming, now is the time to learn how it might unfold and the strategic ways to respond — including the power of ridicule.
Daniel Hunter April 4, 2025

https://wagingnonviolence.org/2025/04/what-to-do-if-the-insurrection-act-is-invoked/

No Kings 3 will be historic because we will make it historic. Less than two weeks out, I can now confirm that there will be more No Kings protests on March 28 than on any previous day in American history.

But, as with Hands Off last April, No Kings last June, and No Kings 2 last October, I know this isn't done until it's done. We need this to be an enormous, historic rebuke to Trump's regime. But whether it's successful depends on far more than just me or Indivisible -- it depends on the leadership, courage, and commitment of millions of people around the globe.

This is a grassroots-driven event, which means it will succeed or fail because of what we all do to organize, recruit, and prepare. There are no corporate sponsors, there's no massive advertising campaign, and despite what the right-wing wackjobs obsess about, nobody's sending big checks to protestors. It's up to us -- all of us.

The good news is we're not alone.

Momentum is building -- you can hear it. Last weekend, Leah and I went down to Selma for the Selma Bridge Crossing Jubilee's commemoration of the 61st anniversary of Bloody Sunday and the fight for a real, multiracial democracy. We were there because Indivisible received the Freedom Flame award, and we wanted to experience the history of that pivotal moment in Civil Rights History first-hand. I'd recommend anyone and everyone go next year. You'll learn from and be inspired by the leaders who paved the road for our democracy with blood, sweat, and tears.

You'll also find lots of friends.

We were humbled when Faya Ora Rose Touré, the civil rights legend who cofounded the Jubilee, came up to us and shared a song she'd written for No Kings. You can see the lyrics here.

All of us can organize. I love that No Kings is becoming so well-known that talented people all over the world are creating art in support of the movement. Nils Lofgren -- guitarist for the E Street band with Bruce Springsteen -- sent us his new song: No Kings, No Hate, No Fear. Neither he nor Springsteen had planned to write new protest music or even go on tour this spring, but after the crackdown in the Twin Cities, they decided they had to do a No Kings protest tour, kicking off in Minneapolis after the flagship No Kings protest there on March 28.

But you don't have to be a world famous artist to help make No King 3 into something historic. I'm not talking about money -- I'm talking about effort. With twelve days left to go, here are the three things I'd recommend:

1. Register your local No Kings events! If your No Kings protest isn't yet on the map, you've got until Wednesday, March 25 at 11:59pm PT to register it. Rule of thumb: if you go to the map and can't find a protest within 30 minutes of where you live, start planning your own!
2. Train up. If you're looking for training on safety, de-escalation, marketing, digital, or constitutional rights, we've got you covered. If your Indivisible group needs support, reach out to your organizer to walk you through the esources we provide. Ultimately this is up to you and your group, but you're not alone and we can help!
3. Recruit. Yes you should post to social media, but don't just rely on the largely regime-friendly tech platforms to spread the word. At your favorite coffee shop, on Nextdoor, or among friends -- invite folks to join you. Find three people who didn't attend No Kings last year. Have a conversation about the moment we're in, and ask them to come with you on March 28. This is old-school and more time consuming than just posting online -- but nothing is more effective at actually building the movement.

As Faya Rose put it, without democracy, we cannot be free. That's why we march, that's why we sing: No kings, no kings.

ICE/DSA

Our communities are not hunting grounds — Demands for Justice NOW Jan 15, 2026.

DSA's National AfroSocialists & Socialists of Color Commission (AFROSOC-DSA) insists that socialism means material safety and dignity and life itself for Black, Brown, and diasporic people. This is not some mere rhetorical opposition to injustice: This moment demands a reckoning with how government resources are mobilized against communities rather than invested in them. This is a clear moment that should show clearly our lives are political — from birth to death, from the erasure of our ancestors to long beyond our deaths.

With all of the above, AFROSOC-DSA calls for the following:

- An immediate halt to immigration enforcement operations that override local authority,
- All municipal, county, and state governments to cease all forms of cooperation with ICE formally through signed 287g agreements or otherwise,

ICE Out Now. Jan. 9, 2026

Last night, over 35,000 people joined an emergency organizing call to respond to the horrific killing of Renee Nicole Good by ICE and the escalating violence of Trump's secret police force in Minneapolis and immigrant communities across the country.

Everyone on the call was clear-eyed about the huge amount of work ahead of us to confront the public menace of an increasingly lawless agency that rampages through communities, targets schools and daycare centers, and commits violence with seeming impunity.

We need more defiance at the state and local level. We need to target ICE's funding at the federal level. And right now, we need to be in the streets shining a light on ICE's pattern of unchecked violence, raising our voices to demand: ICE OUT FOR GOOD.

That's why Indivisible and a broad coalition of partners are banding together for the nationwide ICE Out For Good Weekend of Action this Saturday and Sunday. We hope you'll join us.

Find an Event*

Use our toolkit to host an event

What's happening this weekend

We're coming together for hundreds of daytime events this Saturday and Sunday to mourn the lives ICE has taken and destroyed. Renee Nicole Good's tragic death this week was not an isolated incident; over the past year federal agents have shot numerous people -- two in Portland just yesterday. Thirty-two have died in ICE custody. Many, many more have had their lives shattered by detention, family separation, and deportation.

Our Weekend of Action will honor all those impacted by ICE brutality, raise awareness of this ongoing pattern of violence, and demand justice and accountability.

The events will take a variety of forms determined by each volunteer-host. They will include:

- Public vigils and memorials
- Silent marches and processions
- Visual actions and installations
- Faith-based events
- And more -- hosts are encouraged to dream up creative, attention-grabbing ideas.

What we're demanding

Our Weekend of Action will call for:

- Accountability, transparency, and immediate independent investigations into the killing of Renee Nicole Good
- Increased action from elected officials to rein in ICE
- In the words of Minneapolis Mayor Jacob Frey, for ICE to "get the $&@% out" of our cities.

What you can do

We need the response to this week's killing and ongoing ICE violence to be loud, peaceful, and inescapable. So if you're physically able, we need you to be out in the streets.

- Visit the ICE Out For Good Mobilize Hub to find the event nearest you. Check back often, as events are being added by the hour.
- No event near you? Host one. Use our event toolkit to plan your event, and then register it on Mobilize so others can find it.
- Make sure you know your rights before heading out this weekend. We encourage everyone hitting the streets this weekend (or attending any protest under this regime) to attend the ACLU's virtual Know Your Rights training today (Jan 9) at 8p ET / 5pm PT.
- Help spread the word. Post the sign up for the Weekend of Action across your networks, send it to friends and family.

A core principle behind all ICE Out For Good events is a commitment to nonviolent action and no civil disobedience. We expect all participants to seek to de-escalate any potential confrontation with those who disagree with our values, and to act lawfully at these events. Weapons of any kind, including those legally permitted, should not be brought to events. All events should be held in public spaces or on public property.

This weekend, we'll show the regime and their enablers just how widespread the opposition to their brutality is; we'll put steel in the spines of our Democratic local, state, and national leaders; and we'll send a message to anyone targeted and terrorized by ICE: You are not alone.

Let's get out there together. Let's continue the fight until we get ICE Out For Good.

In solidarity,
Indivisible Team

* Events are being added all the time, so if there's nothing near you now and you'd prefer not to host one, check back in a few hours.

Indivisible to train/organize 1 million to fight back. July 14, 2025.

Indivisible Organizing Guide

- Indivisible: A Practical Guide to Democracy on the Brink

  PDF, Grayscale PDF, Google Docs, Audio version [Length: 28 pages]

https://indivisible.org/resource/guide

What's Up With This Document

- Who this is for:

  Anyone who lives in America and is upset, scared, and determined.

  You want to do your part to protect your family, your neighbors, and democracy from Trump 2.0.

  Maybe you're a current Indivisible group leader or member or maybe you're brand new - welcome!

- What this guide is:

  A set of strategies and practical first steps to help you get started. It's not everything we need to do.

  We're going to need a lot of different people and groups to do their part.

  We don't have all the answers yet, but we know we need to put one foot in front of the other.

- How to use it:

  Join or form a local Indivisible group or review this guide with your existing group and start putting the parts of this into action that make sense for where you live.

  Don't wait for orders and don't ask for permission. If you're in, you're a leader in this movement, and we're here to help.

Indivisible

But the pressing threat of authoritarianism means that we have to include new strategies to protect the future of our democracy and our people.

And that is why we are launching One Million Rising: a campaign to train one million people in the art of strategic non-cooperation to fight authoritarianism.

What changed?The masks are off. Trump, MAGA Republicans, and their billionaire donors have given up on even pretending to govern for the people and are solely looking to line their own pockets and consolidate power.

We're in a period of what the experts call "authoritarian breakthrough" -- a short period where a would-be authoritarian (i.e. Trump) sprints to rapidly concentrate and consolidate their power while eroding the norms and institutions that could serve as checks on that power. We're witnessing this in real time through lawless executive orders, willful disregard for the courts, and vicious attacks on higher education, media, and state governments -- and that's only the tip of the iceberg.

They are working to consolidate their power and bully everyone else -- businesses, media institutions, universities, law firms, and civil society -- into submission.

How do we fight back?

They want us to believe that power in America comes from the top down. That Trump can simply declare himself a dictator, and everyone has to fall in line. That he'll inevitably win.

But that's a lie. Power isn't top-down -- it's bottom-up. Power flows up from the people; through the organizations, institutions, and communities that support the regime; and then to the regime itself. Think of it like a house -- the roof is the regime, the pillars holding up that roof are the organizations, and the foundation is the people.

To prevent a slide into authoritarianism, we have to take on the pillars that hold up the roof.

ICE Operation in DC.

Metro DC DSA statement on ICE harassment of chapter member Aug. 21.

Metro DC DSA issued the following statement on Thursday, August 21:

“Earlier this week, DC police collaborating with ICE agents stopped a longtime Metro DC DSA member while he was driving his work vehicle in northwest DC. Falsely claiming the stop was for a vehicle violation, the police racially profiled our member and his colleague, both of whom are Latino landscape workers. They ripped the colleague out of the vehicle and tackled him to the ground, eventually handing him over to ICE, where he remains in custody. A bystander who filmed the incident was also arrested. Our member, a US citizen, briefly filmed the encounter before being handcuffed and eventually released.

Metro DC DSA declares full solidarity with our member, his colleague, and everyone who is under attack from this fascist administration.

The occupation of DC has nothing to do with keeping our city safe. It’s a spectacle intended to obscure the fact that Trump and his local collaborators are destroying the programs working-class people depend on to survive — all for the sake of enriching oligarchs who profit from our suffering. This is a brutal class war on working people waged by the rich and their political puppets.

The law will not protect us. We know that from this most recent outrage, as well as the long history of state brutality in communities across the US. Rights are meaningless without a strong political movement to give them substance. Our safety as a community depends above all on our ability to organize and build solidarity. Our solidarity especially extends to our immigrant neighbors, who are an essential part of our collective working-class family. We call for the abolition of ICE. We call on everyone to actively join the movement to end the occupation of DC, the condition of DC statelessness that enables it, and the predatory capitalist system that underpins them both..."

ICE as Fascist Vanguard

Former DSA NPC member Kurt Stand has written an important, significant, article summing up where the resistance is, and where we need to go.

Important for those working in the various organizations and lanes of resistance.

Our Urgent Task

DSA and the broader Left must join forces to confront the international rise of authoritarianism and the electoral victory of the Trump/MAGA forces. Together we will work to build a center-left coalition in defense of democracy. DSA must jettison a growing tendency towards a "go it alone" approach that devalues coalition work and glosses over the importance – indeed, the necessity – of a center-left coalition to defend democracy from neo-fascism.

Given the above, North Star understands its role in DSA as:

- Developing organizational clarity on the imminent danger of a neo-fascist seizure of political power, and the concomitant loss of U.S. democracy as the defining feature of the political moment;
- Urging DSA to play a constructive role, as the primary focus of its work, in organizing a broad progressive coalition that can expand towards the political center to oppose that neo-fascist danger.

From the history of fascism.

First they came for the socialists, and I did not speak out—because I was not a socialist.
Then they came for the trade unionists, and I did not speak out—because I was not a trade unionist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out—because I was not a Jew.
Then they came for me—and there was no one left to speak for me.
—Martin Niemöller

This quote is attributed to the prominent German pastor Martin Niemöller. It is sometimes mistakenly referred to as a poem.
After World War II, Niemöller openly spoke about his own early complicity in Nazism and his eventual change of heart. His powerful words about guilt and responsibility still resonate today.

Ownership, Control and Use of Media and Social Media

The danger of a profit driven technological dominance in the hand of the oligarchs dominating our political system while serving their own interests is real. This hegemony must be exposed as a major danger to democracy. Alternative viewpoints and options are urgently needed.

See: Power and Progress. Our 1000 Year Struggle Over Technology & Prosperity. 2023. Chapter 10. Daron Acemoglu and Simon Johnson.

The MAGA/Right now dominates the internet, in part because of how social media is organized, in part thanks to the big podcasts, in part thanks to Musk's explicit bias on Twitter (or X).

Review

There are three things that need to be done by a modern progressive movement. First, the technology-equals-progress narrative has to be challenged and exposed for what it is: a convenient myth propagated by a huge industry and its acolytes in government, the media and (occasionally) academia. The second is the need to cultivate and foster countervailing powers – which critically should include civil society organisations, activists and contemporary versions of trade unions. And finally, there is a need for progressive, technically informed policy proposals, and the fostering of thinktanks and other institutions that can supply a steady flow of ideas about how digital technology can be repurposed for human flourishing rather than exclusively for private profit.

What is the Insurrection Act? Go to Brennan Center

The Insurrection Act authorizes the president to deploy military forces inside the United States to suppress rebellion or domestic violence or to enforce the law in certain situations. The statute implements Congress's authority under the Constitution to "provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions." It is the primary exception to the Posse Comitatus Act, under which federal military forces are generally barred from participating in civilian law enforcement activities.

The Insurrection Act, in principle, only allows the American president to use the armed forces to assist civilian authorities to enforce some law in the presence of an insurrection. But the language of the law is quite vague. Trump makes it clear that he has in mind invoking the Insurrection Act to very broad purposes, essentially to change the regime.
