

Long Since the Eschaton

A Visual Novel

The Visual Novel is made after the nth time of hearing another suicide of the university students in my hometown. It will be released on mental health awareness month (May 2023) and will be able to be downloaded for free. For every 100 DLs I will give IDR 100k to <https://bullyid.org/> . If there's any tips left in my ko-fi for this game, it will be donated also.

STORY: It's been five years since the apocalypse started, the zombies are slowly decomposing, even new zombies don't last due to the lack of food source. The last two humans on earth find themselves stumbling upon each other. While one struggles to keep herself alive, the other just wants to end it all.

Long Since the Eschaton follows a survivor named Kirana, a medic who switched between one survivor group to another until she's all that's left. She met Gabe, a self-sustaining chef who stayed at the same town since the beginning of the plague. Kirana is afraid to die, and she did unsavory things to keep herself alive meanwhile Gabe had to watch all his family members turn and decided it's not worth living anymore. Slowly but surely, the two bond and perhaps help each other cope.

Target : No more than 20k words for the whole game, 3 endings

The visual novel will not include any sexual content, but there will be profanity in the dialogue.

Content warning : suicide, murder, depression, panic attacks, anxiety, violence (towards zombies) and mentions of bullying.

Kirana (Kira), female, 27, medium-high voice

VA : Kat Quinton

Pronunciation : Pronunciations for Kirana in Oriya \(forvo.com\)

A very cautious woman, she doesn't trust anyone and can be a little bit harsh.

She used to be a medical student and was forced to work voluntarily in the E.R when the zombie plague started. After seeing all the horrifying deaths, she was afraid of being dead herself since she doesn't know what will happen afterwards.

She can be really selfish and only cares about herself, but slowly she starts learning to trust others and being sociable once more. She also has frequent nightmares and panic attacks.

Gabriel (Gabe), male, 32, deep, low voice

VA : Remi Alao

Kirana met Gabe when he was about to end his life, he shot all of his family members who turned into a zombie and the family dog, so the guilt has been with him since. Gabe used to be a chef and he grows his own ingredients, so he can be very self-sustaining. He used to let his emotions go and cry since he thinks no one is still alive, but when Kirana appears he starts bottling it up again in fear of being judged. A rowdy-looking guy with a soft heart.

I am looking for someone who can do a zombie voice for the game. I would be needing zombie groans, a zombie dying voice and talking in a zombie voice (used in a nightmare sequence). Will cast 2-3 people for this role because there are several different zombies.

The lines for this audition would be:

- A zombie groan
- A zombie saying "Come with us... to where you should be, to where you belong!"

Send your auditions to theclemmyclue00@gmail.com and this would be a short audition since you'll only do 3 lines each in the game. I'll be closing the audition on May 21, 2023 11 PM GMT+7

Thank you so much!
