

Happenings after Ireland for Aries & Wildcats

We are here outside the Awesome Aries and Lost Wildcats facility where the teams are going to give the latest update on their respective stables following the latest UCC event in Ireland. Katharine McPhee looks to be up first for the Lost Wildcats.

Katharine McPhee: Thanks everyone for joining us here today. I think that our Boss will be here later for some new information but until he gets here lets get this started. We had a lot of good things happen in Ireland and It was a good show for our stable. Let's start with our former captain, Koda Kumi. Kuuchan put on a good show and won her fight over Hyolyn with a brilliant KO using her Knees. Kuuchan, did you want to share a few words?

Kuuchan: Thanks Katharine and our stable for your support as Harumi and Myself have stepped down from leadership. I think we both needed some down time and to let others take the lead. I think we chose wisely and Katharine is going to be a good leader. As for my match with Hyolyn, I was expecting a little more from her. She is talented and a tough fighter. I hope that this was just the start of good things for me. But this team is not about me. We had other girls with bigger wins. Back to you Kat.

Katharine: Well besides Kuuchan, we had Adriana McPhee, Amanda Michalka, Chloe Moretz, Hansika Motwani, Jennifer Garner, Josie Maran, Lin Chi Ling, Mia Khalifa, Ming Na Wen, Risa Coda, Troian Bellisario, Utada Hikaru and Vanessa Marano. That was a pretty good night for us but our girls who did not score victories fought hard but just fell a little short. But no matter, it was all a good night and all of our girls fought hard and gave 100%.

TKO: Kat, quick question. What about yourself? How did your fight go?

Katharine: It was a good night for me as well. I won over a girl who I did not know very well but was able to come out on top with a 2nd round KO. With that I will turn it over to Daniela and her Awesome Aries stable.

Daniela Hantuchova: Thanks Kat, Our team did good as well but we did have a few mishaps. That will be discussed later. Let's talk about the good things. Ai Miyazato, AJ Cook, Emily Osment, Harumi Nemoto, Haylie Duff, Hilary Duff, Keri Russell, Laura Marano, McKayla Maroney, Michelle Yeoh, Priyanka Chopra, Sandra Gal, So Yeon Ryu, Sung Hi Lee, and Tiffany Thornton all scored really nice victories. Ai Miyazato continued to amaze us in the cage and scored an interesting win over Arishfa Khan that took us all by surprise as Ai knocked Arishfa out with a Judo Throw that apparently took a lot out of Arishfa who got up but the referee saw something and stopped the match. Nonetheless Ai won and continues to fight very impressively. McKayla looked spectacular in her first match with our stable and we are happy that we were able to sign her. Laura Marano looked really good in her victory over Vikki Blows and Michelle Yeoh looked equally spectacular with a stunning victory over Kristen Bell. We had other stars of the night like So Yeon Ryu and Sandra Gal who both had really good wins over Jana Defi and Ireland Baldwin respectively. Overall we are really happy with what we saw out there.

TKO: So Dani, what about the mishaps you talked about earlier. It wouldn't concern Sophia Bush would it. She has really struggled with this team after a fair start.

Daniela: Sadly yes, Sophia has struggled and decided not to join us tonight because she was so distraught over her loss.

TKO: So what was bad about losing, Someone has to lose.

Daniela: Well it wasn't necessarily losing it was losing to a girl with less experience. Vanessa Marano was that girl who beat Sophia with a stunning TKO using Uppercuts.

TKO: Well Vanessa is a really good fighter.

Daniela: Yes she is and she deserved this win but it was quite a shocker.

TKO: So what is up with Sophia. She has all that potential and it was hard watching her lose.

Daniela: I really don't know that answer. Sophia usually gives everything she has to gain a victory but I guess Vanessa just wanted this one more. Sophia just hasn't been the same fighter since all of this feuding has been going on with the Barbies. So how about other questions.

TKO: Sure. We have one for Miranda Cosgrove. You looked good in your fight with AJ Cook, but you haven't scored a victory yet. Any thoughts on what is going on.

Miranda Cosgrove: There is no excuse. I have struggled for a victory but I have confidence that will change and everything will improve.

TKO: We understand that you have a match against Laura Marano coming up at an Oil Wrestling match. What is up there and could you explain your challenge to Laura.

Miranda: It's nothing personal. Laura is a rising talent and a top notch fighter. But we spar and train together all the time. We match up really well and I guess I just want to set things straight and show that I can beat her. Not just in training but in a real live match.

TKO: This could be dangerous for either of you. The oil doesn't allow for holds to be held. Do you think you can out wrestle her?

Miranda: I have confidence that I can take Laura. I think that my wrestling abilities are much better than her grappling abilities so I think that I will be victorious.

TKO: Laura, any comment from you about this.

Laura Marano: Miranda is a work in progress and she knows it. I am a much better grappler than she is and that will allow me to beat her in the oil pit.

TKO: Have either of you ever been in the oil before.

Laura: I have never been but I am looking forward to showing the world that I can fight anywhere even in oil.

TKO: Sounds like you two have issues with one another. What is up with this?

Laura: We are just two highly competitive girls who want to be the best in our division.

Miranda: And only one of us can be that girl at the top.

TKO: Interesting, We hope that you two can settle this without injury but let's move on. Ai Miyazato is still looking good despite not having her best night in the cage but she was able to pull out the victory. Ai how did it feel to gain a victory despite a few struggles in the cage.

Ai Miyazato: I am feeling pretty good. I struggled with Arishfa Khan. She is a lot tougher than it looked and she gave me fits in the ring but I was feeling it and gave all that I could to defeat her.

TKO: What happened there at the end of the fight. Arishfa looked ready to continue the match.

Ai: I am not sure but the referee apparently felt that Arishfa was hurt and staggered and stopped the fight. I was hitting her pretty hard and when she went down there at the end, I knew that I had won.

TKO: Well good job to both teams for some really good fighting.

About that time there was a rustle of activity as Sophia Bush finally made her way through the Aries stable heading straight for Vanessa Marano. Daniela steps in Sophia's way.

Sophia: Get out of my way Dani

Daniela: Calm down Sophia, It's over and you lost.

Sophia: I said get out of my way.

What happened next happened so fast that some say Sophia slipped while others say that Daniela just took control of the situation. Sophia took a mighty swing at Daniela who easily ducked out of the way, hooked Sophia's arm and twisted it quickly behind Sophia's back and drove her face down. While this was happening Miranda and Laura suddenly lit into one another and they began fighting. Through all of this, The Awesome Aries' big boss appeared and saw the whole thing erupt and carefully pushed the TKO writer out of harm's way.

TKO: Thanks but what is going on here?

BOSS: We just let Sophia go and she is not happy. She needs a new situation to move into and we are giving that to her. It's the best for everyone.

Meanwhile Laura and Miranda were going at it hot and heavy like two wildcats. The two were on the floor twisting and grappling wildly with occasional punches and chops that seemed to have both girls growing angrier with each second. Katharine along with Ai Miyazato and Chloe Moretz got the two separated and escorted to separate locker rooms to cool down while Security escorted Sophia from the building without further incident.

Boss: We are so sorry that you had to witness all of that. Sophia needs a change of venue and so we have decided to let her go and see if anyone will pick her up. We wish her the best of luck. As for what happened with Laura and Miranda, I love their aggressiveness but they should have settled this in the ring instead of at a team meeting. They will be talked to and if they can't work together then we will move from there. Is there anything else from our friends at TKO?

TKO: I think that we are good. Answered most of our questions and we got to see some of your competitive nature. Thank you and we can't wait to see you all in the future here in the UCC
