

Match the words to the sentences

anything, bird, home, lives, owl, robber, sleepy, special, there, wisher

ALL CHILDREN: We're back.

MRS BEAKLEY: Children, I think your uncle has something to say to you.

SCROOGE MCDUCK: Aye. Welcome (1)_____. Can I get you and Gene anything? Cookies? Milk? Ice cream?

LOUIE: Oh, no, thanks Uncle Scrooge. We're kind of full.

WEBBY: And (2)_____.

SCROOGE MCDUCK: That's because it's past your bedtime. Now scoot along, my wee ones.

ALL CHILDREN: Good night, Uncle Scrooge.

GENIE: Nighty-night.

SCROOGE MCDUCK: Sleep tight.

DUCKWORTH: That's telling them, sir.

GENIE: So this is how it feels to be one of the guys. It's all I've ever wished for.

HUEY: How many wishes do we have left?

LOUIE: Just my last one. And Webby's.

DEWEY: We'd better make sure they're real (3)_____.

GENIE: It's him! Hide me! Hide me! Hide me! Chase him away!

HUEY: But it's just an old owl.

GENIE: An (4)_____?

DEWEY: Yeah, he comes around here every night.

GENIE: I thought it was my meanest master, you know, the one Collie Baba stole the lamp from.

HUEY: Your master was a (5)_____?

GENIE: A bird, a cat, a wolf, he could change into (6)_____.
He's an evil sorcerer.

DEWEY: But he can't still be alive.

LOUIE: He'd be ancient.

HUEY: Yeah. Older than Uncle Scrooge even.

GENIE: Yeah, except his first wish was to live for ever.

HUEY: Ooh, good wisher.

GENIE: No. Bad (7)_____. You don't know. He made me do the worst things.

DEWEY: Like what?

GENIE: Did you ever hear of Atlantis? It was everybody's favourite resort until Merlock couldn't get reservations. Then down she went. And poor Pompeii. Mount Vesuvius would have never blown its top if Merlock hadn't blown his.

LOUIE: But what are you worried about? He used up his wishes.

GENIE: That's just it. Merlock has unlimited wishes because he has a magic talisman. It's what gives him all his powers. And when he puts it on the lamp, he gets as many wishes as he wants. Now do you see why I'm a little jumpy?

LOUIE: Well, maybe we should wish for the talisman.

GENIE: Oh that's the one wish I can't do. You'd have to steal it from him yourself, and good luck.

LOUIE: Well don't worry about that mean old master now.

DEWEY: Yeah, he has no idea you're with us. And that's the way it's going to stay.

DIJON: There it is, Merlock, there it is. You can drop me off anywhere along here. But-but not there. Not (8)_____! That's going to leave a nasty mark.

MERLOCK: Are you certain this is where Scrooge (9)_____?

DIJON: This time I'm very sure. I think.

MERLOCK: Then we begin our search.

DIJON: In light? But I am not a popular favourite in that house. Scrooge find me, he kill me.

MERLOCK: Then stay behind if you wish. I'll try very hard to remember you at reward time.

HUEY: There's the (10)_____.

DEWEY: Catch him!

GENIE: Come on, rug, giddy-up! Gid-up! Upsie-daisy!

LOUIE: Reach for the chandelier!

Answers:

ALL CHILDREN: We're back.

MRS BEAKLEY: Children, I think your uncle has something to say to you.

SCROOGE MCDUCK: Aye. Welcome (1)home. Can I get you and Gene anything? Cookies? Milk? Ice cream?

LOUIE: Oh, no, thanks Uncle Scrooge. We're kind of full.

WEBBY: And (2)sleepy.

SCROOGE MCDUCK: That's because it's past your bedtime. Now scoot along, my wee ones.

ALL CHILDREN: Good night, Uncle Scrooge.

GENIE: Nighty-night.

SCROOGE MCDUCK: Sleep tight.

DUCKWORTH: That's telling them, sir.

GENIE: So this is how it feels to be one of the guys. It's all I've ever wished for.

HUEY: How many wishes do we have left?

LOUIE: Just my last one. And Webby's.

DEWEY: We'd better make sure they're real (3)special.

GENIE: It's him! Hide me! Hide me! Hide me! Chase him away!

HUEY: But it's just an old owl.

GENIE: An (4)owl?

DEWEY: Yeah, he comes around here every night.

GENIE: I thought it was my meanest master, you know, the one Collie Baba stole the lamp from.

HUEY: Your master was a (5)bird?

GENIE: A bird, a cat, a wolf, he could change into (6)anything. He's an evil sorcerer.

DEWEY: But he can't still be alive.

LOUIE: He'd be ancient.

HUEY: Yeah. Older than Uncle Scrooge even.

GENIE: Yeah, except his first wish was to live for ever.

HUEY: Ooh, good wisher.

GENIE: No. Bad (7)wisher. You don't know. He made me do the worst things.

DEWEY: Like what?

GENIE: Did you ever hear of Atlantis? It was everybody's favourite resort until Merlock couldn't get reservations. Then down she went. And poor Pompeii. Mount Vesuvius would have never blown its top if Merlock hadn't blown his.

LOUIE: But what are you worried about? He used up his wishes.

GENIE: That's just it. Merlock has unlimited wishes because he has a magic talisman. It's what gives him all his powers. And when he puts it on the lamp, he gets as many wishes as he wants. Now do you see why I'm a little jumpy?

LOUIE: Well, maybe we should wish for the talisman.

GENIE: Oh that's the one wish I can't do. You'd have to steal it from him yourself, and good luck.

LOUIE: Well don't worry about that mean old master now.

DEWEY: Yeah, he has no idea you're with us. And that's the way it's going to stay.

DIJON: There it is, Merlock, there it is. You can drop me off anywhere along here. But-but not there. Not (8)there! That's going to leave a nasty mark.

MERLOCK: Are you certain this is where Scrooge (9)lives?

DIJON: This time I'm very sure. I think.

MERLOCK: Then we begin our search.

DIJON: In light? But I am not a popular favourite in that house. Scrooge find me, he kill me.

MERLOCK: Then stay behind if you wish. I'll try very hard to remember you at reward time.

HUEY: There's the (10)robber.

DEWEY: Catch him!

GENIE: Come on, rug, giddy-up! Gid-up! Upsie-daisy!

LOUIE: Reach for the chandelier!