

Hey Diego, first things first I just have to mention you're in fantastic shape, I think that a lot of people would kill to have your physique. It takes years of discipline, consistency, and hard work to achieve. Especially becoming a WBFF Champion, Your abundance of accolades shows your competency in this industry.

I love to lift weights, I was looking for a new chest workout on youtube, then I stumbled across your channel which led me to your website. I had a few ideas spring to mind about helping your business grow. These ideas are based on helping you to generate more leads and conversions to purchase your high-ticket products. I also have an idea to aid you with client retention too.

I understand that it can be extremely difficult to keep up with forever-changing trends in the fitness industry. Not to mention a highly competitive market where clients have a tonne of options to choose from. I can see how all of this extra work could affect your work-life balance. I think growing your business would help you claim some of that time back in the long run

I've taken the time to rewrite one of your captions from your recent Instagram post in a more intriguing way to inspire more curiosity in your followers. (It's underneath all this text) Once the curiosity is there we can get them to their goals and leave a positive impact on their life.

If you're interested in what I can do for you, Just respond "Yes I'm Interested"

If not, I wish you all the best in the future.

Kind regards

Hello, Hope you're all doing well, (where is the name?) You have to make it more specific, they will think you are just a spammer

I thought I'd mention that your recent "Move The Dirt" marketing campaign was awesome. A great way to build rapport with your target demographic. Good balance for not being a fanboy, but not a superior too

After seeing the campaign that you put together, I decided to check out your brand and website. Some ideas came to mind which will help to generate more leads and conversions.

The goal is to connect with your target audience on a deeper level and build an even stronger rapport. you are basically telling “you dont know shit” and this is a superior motive that upsets “the friend to friend” dynamic. Should put this at the end

I've been helping businesses in the fitness/health niche to grow their social media presence and their clientele list. I understand this industry can be overwhelming with so many competitors involved.

I've actually attached some recent work I did for another business that has a similar model to yours at Power Athlete. Take a look and let me know what you think. I dont think its a good idea to say that you give them the value you just gave to another business. It will make them think that you are just giving it away to everybody and you are spam.

I strongly believe I can add significant value to your business. If you're ready to take the next step with me, then great. Not so convincing close, you need to use more of your brain calories on this G, maybe instead of saying “then great”. Say that if you are ready to take the next step then reply with a “Yes” and i will send the work.

Kind regards
