The best way to contact your instructor is via email. I generally respond to emails within 24 to 48 hours.

* We will meet on Tuesdays from 4:00-5:45 PM, (except where noted in the syllabus) to provide time for the service learning component of this course. This will allow you the opportunity to work with your child for two hours per week. This also allows me time to visit service learning sites and provide hands-on assistance and mentoring as needed.

Prerequisites

Completion of all lower division preparation for the major courses with a grade of C (2.0) or better; Child and Family Development 375A and 375B; and Child and Family Development 378A or 378B or 378D. Print a Degree Audit Report showing all prerequisites and bring it by the 2nd class meeting. Make sure to highlight relevant classes.

Note: The above prerequisites apply only to students majoring in Child, Family Development. These prerequisites DO NOT apply to students who are in the Special Education-Early Childhood Credential Program or students who are from the ITEP program.

Course Description

This course will cover language and literacy development in early childhood, with a focus on an emergent, intentional approach to curriculum and the social-emotional components of early literacy. Guidelines from the California Department of Education will be used to reflect developmentally appropriate and culturally responsive practices that have been shown to result in improved language, literacy, and school readiness outcomes. Special attention will be paid to meeting the needs of Dual Language Learners and implementing individualized instruction that builds on a child's prior knowledge and strengths. This course will also place emphasis on the importance of familiarizing oneself with a child's family and community resources. Interventions for early literacy seen through the lens of Special Education will also be highlighted in this course. In addition, the service learning component of the class will focus on bridging theory and practice, as students work with a child throughout the semester, providing the opportunity to implement and reflect on concepts and strategies learned throughout the class.

Required Text: Vukelich, C., Christie, J. F., Enz, B. , & Roskos, K.A. (2016). Helping young children learn language and literacy: Birth through kindergarten. Allyn & Bacon. 5th Edition.

***Text is available at the top of the Canvas Module Link through Equitable Access supplied by the Aztec Bookstore.

The following resources are provided by the California Department of Education and will be used throughout the semester. These resources are posted in Canvas in the folder labeled CDE Resources. Please download them to your computer, as we will be using them extensively throughout the semester.

- o California Preschool Learning Foundations Volume 1
- o California Infant/Toddler Learning and Development Foundations
- o Desired Results Developmental Profile 2015 (DRDP)
- o Preschool English Learners Guide
- o California Preschool Curriculum Framework Volume 1
- o California Infant/Toddler Curriculum Framework

For those of you working in K-3 settings, I have also posted the English Language Arts Standards of the Common Core on Canvas. For those who may be working in a Dual Language setting where Spanish is part of the curriculum, I have posted the Spanish Language Arts of the Common Core on Canvas as well. I will be working with you individually to adjust assignments/reading materials to reflect your classroom setting and your areas of interest.

I will also be posting supplemental articles on Canvas throughout the semester. Please see the course schedule for any additional readings.

Additional Requirements

Fingerprints

The SDSU catalog indicates that all CFD students are required to be live-scan fingerprinted as a condition of their participation in CFD courses and internships. The fingerprint process and documents are those required by Community Care Licensing (CCL) in the State of California, the organization that oversees early care and education in the state. Information about this requirement can be found on the following cdss.ca.gov link:

<https://www.cdss.ca.gov/inforesources/community-care/caregiver-background-check/fingerprinting> Since CFD 380 is designed as a lab class, in which Service Learning hours are required, your fingerprints must be cleared by the due date (TBD) in order to be able to work with a child out in the field.

Immunizations

This course has an early field experience/service learning component in which you are encouraged to work at a community based early care and education program. Although every program has different requirements, you will most likely need to provide the following to your lab placement site: ☐ Valid negative TB test result (date may vary by program) ☐ Evidence of MMR and TDap vaccines.

Program Orientation

Some centers/agencies may also require that students attend an orientation prior to being placed in a classroom. More information about this will be provided in class.

It is your responsibility to notify me right away (via email) if an assignment is going to be late due to circumstances beyond your control. Please do not wait until the next class meeting to inform me.

Late and Missing Assignments

Assignments are due on the date and time specified in the syllabus and on Canvas. Late assignment policy: 1 point will be deducted for each day (weekends included) the assignment is late. I understand that many unexpected events can occur when working in educational settings, and if you are unable to submit an assignment on time, please communicate this to me IMMEDIATELY. If this becomes a pattern, I will ask you to meet with me during office hours for an individual appointment.

Expectations for Service Learning Project

I understand that many unexpected events can occur when working in school settings. If you are unable to work with your child during the week (for example, if the child is out due to illness, there is an unexpected staff development day or field trip), please let me know the day that your child was absent.

If you are ill and/or having to test for COVID exposure, please immediately notify the child's teacher and myself that you cannot be at the school due to illness or possible COVID exposure.

All students will be required to comply with all volunteer requirements of the agency/organization/school where they are doing their service learning project. If you work/volunteer at the SDSU Children's Center, please abide by the Center's protocol for volunteering and following basic work ethics.

Expectations will also be reviewed in class and students will be required to sign and turn in the CFD 380 Student Contract, indicating that they have reviewed and understand all expectations for the service-learning component of the course.

PLEASE NOTE: The Analysis of Student Learning & Teacher Work Sample Assignment required for this course can be used for the Reflective Learning Portfolio (CFD 578) course to demonstrate competency towards meeting Goal three:

Goal 3: Students uses his/her understanding of and relationships with children and families to design, implement, and evaluate experiences that promote positive learning and development for all children (NAEYC 4, NCATE, 3, NCFR area 10).

Assignments

Entrance Tickets/In-Class Activities (2 pts)

There will be 10 Entrance Tickets to respond to at the beginning of the class and/or in-class activities throughout the semester that will be based on the textbook assigned readings. There will be no make-up of Entrance Tickets or in-class activities.

DRDP Tutorials (2 pts)

These short, on-line tutorials are intended to help you become familiar with the Desired Results Developmental Profile (DRDP) that is used by the State of California to assess children's development. Students will complete four tutorials for the age group that they will be working with (infants/toddlers or preschoolers). Students working with children in K-3 settings will complete the preschool tutorial. Links to these tutorials will be posted on Canvas. A brief description & summary of tutorials watched will be required.

Reflection #1: Language Learning Experiences (4 pts)

Reflect on your experience learning a second language, whether that language was English or a (LOTE) Language other than English. You can write a two-page testimonio, a letter to a former teacher, or create a poem based on an incident related to learning a second language that affected your self-esteem. You can also select an illustration from a children's book, a painting, a photograph that has sparked a memory you had as a child or an adult, that had to do with language acquisition. If you opt for a visual reflection (photograph/ painting/ an illustration from a children's book) include a two-page reflection that describes your experience. A brief presentation of your Language Learning Experience will be shared during class time. TPE1.2 A

Reflection #2: Selecting an Anti-Bias & Accessible Children's book and how it can be used in a Read Aloud (4 pts)

Select a children's book with an anti-bias focus and/or a book that can be made accessible to children with IEPs or IFSPs either digitally or by hand. You will share this book with the instructor by recording yourself reading the book and uploading that video onto Canvas. If you cannot find an Anti-Bias and/or an Accessible Book to be used in a Read Aloud, you can create & customize a story that can be made more relevant to the child that you are working with. You are also responsible for writing a 1.5 to 2-page paper that discusses how your book can be used in the inclusive early childhood classroom, as well as how it connects to the topic of Anti-Bias Education. Your discussion should tease out strategies and adaptations to be used with children with intellectual disabilities or are struggling with English language acquisition. For the paper, make sure to reference the material on Anti-Bias Education from session 9.

Group-led Presentation of Assigned Chapters from Helping Young Children Learn Language & Literacy (10 pts) To delve deeper into the content of the assigned readings from our textbook, a 20-minute Group-led Presentation will be conducted on a Bi-weekly basis. These Group Presentations will highlight specific areas of assigned Chapter Readings.

Groups of four to five classmates will sign up to present an 8 to 12 slide-presentation that is connected to the week's readings. Each Presenter will be required to select from the Chapter a section of the chapter that was of high interest to them. Each Presenter in the Group should be ready to describe what their section of the Chapter is primarily about and explain why that section is of interest to them. The quality of the Group's collaborative work putting the slide presentation together, equipped with appropriate photographic images and concise, clear bulleted text will be considered for grading.

Service Learning Project:

Introduction Letter to Teacher (2 pts)

This is an opportunity to introduce yourself to the staff and the parents of the children in your classroom. It should be one page long, include a recent, clear, color photograph of you, and describe your experiences working with children. It should convey enthusiasm and professionalism. PLEASE proofread carefully. Provide one copy to your classroom teacher and upload another copy to Canvas in the Module assignment link . Please make the letter personal to your teacher and his/her classroom.

Assessment of Language/Literacy Environment (4 pts)

Once you have been assigned to your classroom, you will be doing an assessment of the language and literacy environment using a template that will be posted on Canvas and reviewed during class.

Thank-you Letter to Teacher (2 pts)

This is an opportunity for you to thank your mentor teacher for the opportunity to work in his/her classroom and share any insight, learning, or other information that you feel reflects the time spent with the children, families, and staff. This assignment can be in the form of a letter or a thank you card. Provide one copy to your classroom teacher and upload another copy (photo if using a thank you card) via Canvas.

Initial Analysis of Student Learning & Work Sample (ASLWS) Assignment (4 pts)

During the course of the semester, you will be working one on one with a young child between the ages of 6 months - 8 years of age. A list of centers/schools will be provided for you to contact to set up your service learning placement. You will also be provided with a template of a letter of introduction for you to customize and take to your selected site. If there is a particular program that you would like to work with, please let me know. Since a great deal of this course is built around the requirements of the California Department of Education, it is important that you work in a center/program that uses the Desired Results Developmental Profile and the Desired Results System.

I encourage you to use this opportunity to explore your interests – for example, if your goal is to work with children with learning challenges, you can work with a child with an IEP/IFSP; if your goal is to work in a Dual Language classroom setting, you can work with a child who is learning in more than one language (the child's Primary Language and a second language).

You will be spending one to two hours a week with your assigned child and you will be responsible for planning, implementing, and evaluating the effectiveness of language and literacy activities and lessons designed to meet the child's interests and developmental level. It is expected that you use the foundations of early literacy instruction in your lessons including Concepts of Print, One-to-One Word Correspondence, Reading with Expression, and Oracy.

Please note that with long range planning and teaching, your student may not achieve the outcome you had in mind. Nonetheless, you are expected to "teach" your lessons regardless of whether your student is achieving the intended outcomes. Every effort should be made to integrate these lessons with what is already going on in the classroom. The Analysis of Student Learning & Teacher Work Sample Assignment is designed to minimize the chances of your student not meeting the intended outcomes. This Analysis (ASLWS) will also help to make your long range planning and teaching more responsive.

Time Sheet of Volunteering: For this 2023 Spring Semester, you will be required to volunteer a minimum of 12 hours. Please keep track of the dates and hours that you invest in the class where you are volunteering. A Time Sheet template will be provided prior to the week you begin to volunteer. Towards the end of the course, this Timesheet, signed by you and the classroom teacher, will be due.

California Department of Education Resources: You will use initiatives and guidance provided by the California Department of Education to plan lessons that will meet the CA Learning Foundations related to language and literacy and Dual Language development. These resources include the Preschool Learning Foundations, the Infant/Toddler Learning and Development Foundations, the Desired Results System (including the Desired Results Developmental Profile, or DRDP), the Preschool and Infant Toddler Curriculum Frameworks, and the Preschool English Learner Guide. You will be working closely with the classroom teacher to integrate your lessons and activities with the theme or project being explored by the entire class. If you are working in a K-3 classroom, you will be utilizing the Common Core English Language Arts standards and/or Spanish Language Arts standards if the class has a Dual Language Immersion Program.

NOTE: The Analysis of Student Learning & Teacher Work Sample Assignment includes the following three steps:

Step 1: Relationship Building, Observation, and Goal Development (4 points)

Before you begin planning your lessons, do a thorough analysis of your child's prior knowledge, skills, attitudes, and interests related to both early language and literacy and the project or investigation being conducted in the classroom. Getting to know your child begins with observing his/her play, while making note of his/her interests, questions, and ideas. As you begin to build a relationship with the child, try to discover any misconceptions he/she might have about the topic or project their classroom is currently exploring and find what it is about the topic that might excite him/her and capture his/her imagination. Also, please check your own misconceptions that you might have initially about the child's ability to respond to literacy.

It is highly recommended that you should use multiple approaches (observation, review of work samples, questioning) to assess prior knowledge. This initial observation phase should be done sufficiently in advance of planning to teach so that the information you gather can really shape your work and help you determine what goals you may have for this child based on your observations. These goals should reflect the CA Language and Literacy Learning Foundations and the related DRDP measures (or Common Core ELA Standards or CC SLA Standards if applicable). Try to obtain information about the child from his/her teacher as well.

RBOGD Assignment: You will prepare a written analysis documenting how you assessed the child's prior knowledge, what you learned, and what you plan to do based on your analysis and growing relationship with the child. The written analysis should be about three pages, double spaced.

Step 2: Implementation of bi-weekly lesson plans, collection of evidence to document learning, and reflection (4 lesson plans at 6 points each, for a total of 24 points)

Lesson Plan Assignments: You will develop and implement 4 literacy-related lessons with your child using the lesson plan format provided in class. Each lesson plan should target a different language and literacy outcome (and include adaptations for dual language learners and children that are intellectually-challenged disabilities or that have dyslexia) and should be based on the child's developmental level and interests. Plans should be rooted in the principles of Universal Design for Learning and should include tiered systems of support. You must collect 3 pieces of evidence of the child's learning. This may include a photo of the child engaged in an activity accompanied by a description of what the child said/did, an anecdotal observation, a work sample, or a video. This evidence will be used for your final presentation. The format for these lesson plans and the final presentation will be provided in class and posted on Canvas. *Incorporate each foundational skill into at least one lesson plan.

Note: Lesson plans are due one week in advance of implementing the lesson. They are due by 11:59 PM on the Monday prior to the lesson's implementation. See course schedule for tentative due dates.

Step 3: Final Presentation and Evaluation and Reflection on Service Learning Project (20 points)

At the end of your long-term teaching experience, you must make a case that you have successfully fostered student learning. Be sure to address the goals for student learning that you set at the beginning of the semester and refer to your lesson plans and select documentation of student learning (anecdotal notes, work samples, photos, etc) that illustrate key points. You will also be required to reflect on the assignment and how it influenced your development as an emerging professional in the field of early care and education. Additional guidance as well as the format for the final presentation will be provided in class and posted on Canvas.
