Sex: Male

Age: 17

Height: 6'2

Weight: 113.5

Anthro

Weapon: scalpel in right sleeve

Hairstyle: long and tufted forward

Tail: bushy about 13 inches long 8 ½ inches wide including fluff meaning all the fur

Origin: Detroit

Build: Skinny but healthy

Eye color: blue but the left has a red iris due to the robotics it's just a really fancy camera

Clothing: head to toe welding goggles on forehead headphones around neck a blue button up shirt and white lab coat black jeans and male short neck combat boots

Typical look: always has a different haircut and a crooked right sided smile the clothing is always the same aside from a new shirt or pair of jeans for the day but the shirt is always a nice button up

Accessories: headphones and the welding goggles

Extra features: left eye robotic installed by self has the ability to remove eye and use it as a drone he calls it his eye-drone (spy-drone) the goggles help cover his eye when removed so others don't have to see the hole where his eye used to be and a stiff right leg with a large scar on the knee where no fur grows metal plate in the knee which keeps it stiff again installed by self

Fears: Emp mines/grenades because the eye may malfunction and cause damage and losing anyone/anything he holds close

Backstory: Derik had a nice and simple childhood. There were no problems with his parents and he pretty much had anything he asked for, just not enough to spoil him. On his seventh birthday Derik wanted to go to silver dollar city but along the way someone ran a stoplight T-boning Derik's car. The other car hit the passenger side of Deriks car which is where he was sitting. The crash caused Deriks seat belt to break sending him flying over to the other side of the car, his left eye landing on the lock of the door and his leg smashed into the floor hard enough to shatter the kneecap. Derik's dad died immediately as he was flung out the windshield and ran over and his mom got severed in half (stomach down). Deriks mom barely made it out alive but luckily an ambulance was already nearby and was able to take Derik out of the car. Deriks mom had to wait for the firetruck to get there so she could be removed from the car. The medics from the car treated her the best they could through the window. Once the fire truck arrived they were able to pull Deriks mom out of the car and immediately rushed to the hospital; she barely made it. After that Derik started working on an artificial eye at age 8 so he could see out of two eyes once again and finally accomplished this at age 13 installing his eye into himself. After that he started a business trying to sell the eye he made but ran out of money before he could actually sell any. Derik then decided to try and be a doctor but college wouldn't work for him because he couldn't pay for it so he decided to practice on dummies and himself. Once he thought he was ready he went off to be a surgeon on the black market and became pretty successful and worked from age 14 to 17 and will continue in his profession. At the age of 17 Derik attempted college once again this time with the money and experience needed he is currently enrolled in Detroit medical health institute where he is studying in multiple medical fields consisting of mental health, dental, and trauma care along with the basics needed for doctoring. He will graduate at the age of 18 and have a masters degree in all fields of his study.

Other info: his insanity comes from the brain damage he suffered in the crash and the fact he lost his dad and had to take care of his mother. He also gained hate for others and experience on how to raise a family throughout his life but does give others a chance to prove to him that they can be good people but only gives one chance then becomes absolutely disgusted by that person. He tries his best to be a good person but doesn't always come off that way and others almost instantly exclude him. Derik has always had trust issues and may not welcome people instantly but his heart can be melted and will welcome people into his team, circle, group, clan, whatever. He does travel often and may not stick around long but if he welcomes you into his team he may let you join his journey as he has an absolute love for discovering places he's never been to.
