

Katie's HG RP concepts

District 10 Tribute

- Some sort of vocation that involves working closely with animals but preferably not killing them -- vet? This might be a family practice
- I know in Odds you don't get to choose how you tribute dies, really, but I want this kid to try to tame a mutt -- and maybe have some degree of success, but eventually they get mauled or whatever

The Hopeless Tribute

- This tribute knows that (s)he has no chance of winning and doesn't see a point in trying
- Possibly commits suicide by intentionally stepping off the plate too early? Would depend on the personality, if this tribute is clever/brave enough to carry that through
- Possible Cornucopia death
- If they manage to survive the Cornucopia (by running away immediately), dies in the first few days

District 3 Male Mentor (Beetee)

- PB: a bespectacled, black-haired man in his 40s or so
John Oliver [1, 2, 3] or Joshua Malina
- I'd need to go back to canon and read more about him before I could try to write him, but I really like the idea of playing Beetee
- Also he and Wiress had a really fun dynamic circa Catching Fire, so it'd be fun to maybe get to play that
- Though I think he is a genuine supporter of the rebellion, I also think he just enjoys all the problem-solving stuff they put him up to. Like when he hacked the Capitol broadcasts and got the Katniss propos on there -- you know he was just as excited that he hacked the Capitol broadcasts as he was about what it meant for the rebellion
- To put it differently: he's definitely more White Hat than Black Hat, but when it comes down to it, he just wants to be wearing a hat at all

Female Mentor

- PB: Emma Roberts
- Got the scar on her face from a famous scene during her games (probably once it was down to the last two tributes)
- Her stylist wants her to get the scar removed, but she refuses. The Capitol lets her keep it because they love the reminder of such an exciting battle
- Her desire to keep the scar is an act of rebellion, certainly, but I don't think she'd be involved with rebellion on a large, organized scale. She'd be a quite recent Victor, so she'd still be dealing with all that that entails. And I think the scar would be symbolic of that -- it's what sets her Victor self apart from her pre-Games self

- I wouldn't want to play her in a game with another young mentor -- or, maybe one other young mentor would be fine, but anything more than that would be overkill

PBs that I like but don't really have full concepts for yet:

Tributes:

- Aubrey Plaza
- Elodie Bollee
- Felicity Jones
- Kay Panbaker - because it's been too long since I've actually PBed her! not sure what set I would use though... someone needs to icon Kay in Cyberbully! and moar of her in No Ordinary Family would be nice too. THERE ARE JUST NEVER ENOUGH KAY ICONS IN THE WORLD maybe i should make my own
- Keke Palmer
- Kelsey Sanders
- Naomi Scott
- Nick Palatas

Mentors:

- Anna Torv (30) - possibly District 3? would come off as kind of cold and detached but really be a big softie who cares a lot about her tributes
- Dianna Agron (25) - a Mentor who has adapted to some of the Capitol's fashion trends. not sure if I'd want her to be from a Career District or not! but yeah, a really Capitolistic Mentor would be interesting, I think
- Gillian Jacobs (26) - Gillian is one of my favorite PBs, and I think this look would be appropriate for HG
- Hannah Simone (31) - she is just gorgeous, and also I don't have enough POC on this list (I need to work on that! mostly white characters make sense in HP RP but in HG I feel not only a freedom but a responsibility to branch out~)
- Joanna Douglas (27) - a more emotional Mentor
- Maeve Quinlan (40) - somehow managed to be pretty detached from the Games (jaded?), but occasionally will remind you that she's been Mentoring since before you were BORN. usually this is an exaggeration but maybe sometimes it is true. would probably work better in a non-Odds game, aka something later
- Meagan Good (23) - I think she would make a good Career Mentor
- Nicole Kidman (31) - because I like to play gingers in HG, apparently
- Penelope Cruz (32)

Capitolites:

- Alison Iraheta - maybe I don't give a shit about giving shits about things... (yes, this is purely because of Korey)
- Bernadette Peters - dude, it's Bernadette Peters

- Danny Pudi - because how can you look at that set and NOT want to PB him?
- Jesse Tyler Ferguson - for some reason I see him as an escort who got forced into escorting (repaying some sort of favor? something to do with his family?) and he hates it and tries to resist getting attached to the kids but he can't help it
- Sofia Vergara - I just love her. also she makes great expressions!
- Zooey Deschanel - idek I just am in love with her glasses. probably a snappy Stylist who is always judging you
