

Lost but found

Once there was a little girl who loved to explore the garden. She would always find new places to explore and see what was in there. one day when she was under a arch covered with leaves she found something. It was old, dirty and felt like crumpled leaves. she lifted it up and saw that it was a map. Not just any map but a old map about the mountains over the hill. She raced inside put on a warm jacket, some boots and said goodbye. CRUNCH CRUNCH CRUNCH the mountain snow was getting deeper, she could see her own farm from the mountain. Halfway up the mountain she saw a tree, she went over to it she brushed of the snow to sit down, but felt something hard and cold. She stood up and saw a door that was really small. She opened it up and saw stairs leading down down down into the darkness. Hello she called heloooo she heard back. Who was that who was thaaaat. It was warm in the cave she could see there was a little light to show her the way down the stairs. "What was that?" the girl said. She heard a noise a noise that was really weird a noise that No One had ever heard. creek it sounded like a door opening she looked around were was that noise coming from. What made that sound was someone else in there ,if there was then who were they. after a day being in the cave she found a door she opened it and found herself in the arch covered with leaves. Except the arch that was covered in leaves wasn't the I entered yesterday or maybe the day before. I couldn't remember. I remember

2.4.19 my friends

Hi my name is amelia and i live in new zealand christchurch. My house is 10 trina place shirley we live in a culdesack. One time in the school holidays a year ago we were having subway when there was a knock on the door. These girls who lived around the cul de sac were at the park with there unties when they got locked out. The youngest wanted some water so we got her some then they were aloud to play. I asked they one who wanted water what her name was her name was nikita the oldests name was alexia . then they went home a couple of weeks after school they came round i asked how old they were alexia was 9 but now is 10 nikita was 5 but now is 6. On monday wednesday and friday they are aloud to play i am so glad to have friends that are nice. well now nikita hates being in so never comes around. yesterday she came around and we played spys. next year she is going to casebrook intermediate but fingers crossed can still play after school.

LOST

Once there was a girl who had moved to a new city and was starting at a new school in the morning. BEEP Beep beep, ahhh said Deneca it was monday and time to start at a new school. She got out of bed and got dressed then went downstairs to get breakfast. Morning sunshine said mum as Denca entered the kitchen. Yum pancakes with butter and maple syrup. Soon it was time for her to get on to the school bus and go. Love you have a good day at your new school
