

```

 <body>
<center>
You have to wait 15 seconds.</center>

Download Timer
 <noscript>JavaScript needs to be enabled in order to be able to download.</noscript> <script type="application/javascript"> (function(){
    var message = "%d seconds before download link appears";
    // seconds before download link becomes visible
    var count = 15;
    var countdown element = document.getElementById("countdown");
    var download link = document.getElementById("download_link");
    var timer = setInterval(function(){ // if countdown equals 0, the next condition will evaluate to false and the else-construct will be executed
        if (count) { // display text
            countdown element.innerHTML = "You have to wait %d seconds.".replace("%d", count);
            // decrease counter
            count--;
        } else {
            // stop timer
            clearInterval(timer);
            // hide countdown
            countdown element.style.display = "none"; // show download link
            download link.style.display = "";
        }
    }, 1000);
})();
</script>
</body>

```