

CONFLICT SCENARIOS

1. A student has heard that her friend has called her names in front of a boy she really likes.
2. Two students are pushing and shoving each other outside the school and calling each other names.
3. Someone has written graffiti over your locker. You are sure you know who did it.
4. You confided in a friend something that was very private for you. You asked him not to tell anyone. Now everyone knows and you are angry.
5. Your sister or brother borrowed your favorite sweater. The next time you wanted to wear it, there was a grease stain on the front of it.
6. You arrive early to get a good seat at the school game. You leave your jacket in the bleachers to reserve your seat. When you return, your jacket is on the floor and someone is in your seat.
7. Two students argue over what to do about the cheating they observed during an exam the day before.
8. One boy purposely trips another in class. Everyone laughs but the teacher does not see the incident. This kind of thing happens often.
9. Your friend borrowed your library card six months ago. Now you are charged with a $40.00 fine for lost books. Your friend refuses to pay the fine.
10. You and a friend skipped a class. Your friend lies about the reason to the teacher. The teacher asks you to confirm the story.
11. Your brother has been on the phone for 30 minutes. You need to call a friend to find out what time practice is in the morning and you want to go to bed.
12. You hear your best friend was at the movies last night with your boyfriend/girlfriend. They told you they were at home studying last night.