

NAMI: National Alliance on Mental Illness, Teenage Suicide,

http://www2.nami.org/Content/ContentGroups/HelpLine1/Teenage_Suicide.htm

This article told me the leading death about suicide. It told me that it was the third/fourth/eighth-leading cause of death. It also told me about how suicide has nearly tripled from 1965 to 1987. It also told me that From 1980 to 1996, the rate of African-Americans committing suicide has increased. It also told me that teenagers and young adults die from suicide more than cancer, heart disease, AIDS, birth defects, stroke, etc.

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Suicide Prevention, 2014-01-09, http://www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/pub/youth_suicide.html

This article told me about the percentage of ways people killed themselves. It also told me that males intend to kill themselves more than females. It also told me that females are more likely to report attempting suicide than males. This article also told me the amount of number of people between the ages of 10-24 receive medical care.

Teen Suicide Warning Signs - Teen Suicide, Teen Suicide Warning Signs - Teen Suicide,

<http://www.teensuicide.us/articles2.html>

This article told me about the different warning signs of suicidal people. It also told me that suicidal people can prevent showing these signs. It also told me suicidal people intend to make a plan for the death. It also told me that these warning signs are extremely serious calls for help.