Health Insurance:

Students who are degree seeking and taking 6 or more in-person credit hours are required to have health insurance to attend a UNC system school. Students with existing health insurance coverage can waive out of the school insurance plan. $2,784.80 is the 2024-25 annual cost of insurance offered through Student Blue, underwritten by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of North Carolina (BCBSNC).

For more information, visit the Health and Counseling website.

Orientation Fee:

There is a one-time orientation fee of $150 charged to all new freshmen and transfer students. Students who attend orientation but who subsequently do not attend the University are still responsible for payment of the orientation fee.

Returned Check/ACH Fee:

A fee of $35 is charged for any check or ACH payment (electronic check) returned to the university by the bank for any reason.

Schedule Reinstatement Fee:

A schedule reinstatement fee of $100 is charged if a student has his or her schedule canceled and wishes to enroll in classes again. The student's original schedule will be subject to class availability.

Late Graduation Application Fee:

Students must submit an online application for graduation by the appropriate deadline, listed below. Students who do not submit the application by the deadline will be required to pay a late application fee of $100 prior to applying.

- For May graduation, the application is due December 1
- For Summer graduation, the application is due June 1
- For December graduation, the application is due September 1

Diploma Replacement Fee:

A fee of $20 is charged per diploma replacement request. There is an accompanying form required by the Registrar's office to be completed.

Engineering Enhancement Fee

Annual Charges for Engineering Courses (E, ECE, JEM, MAE, MSE)

- 1-4 hours: $125.00
- 5-8 hours: $250.00
- 9 or more hours: $500.00

Funding is necessary to provide a student-centered engineering education at the level of excellence consistent with our accreditor's standards. Even after state appropriations are included, Engineering programs require supplemental tuition or student fees to provide the leading-edge learning experiences and facilities students need, including specialized equipment and laboratories that are at the forefront of technology. Additionally, the professional development and preparation that happens outside of the course schedule is more necessary as the field continues to evolve.
