

The Low-Down.

Generally speaking, I'm pretty laid back on Tumblr. I'm relatively low activity these days, especially because I have 15+ muses. I'm usually pretty chill with rules, but I did have to make some guidelines for my own sanity.

About Me

- My name is Linny. I answer to Lin, Linny, or Lindy. Honestly you can call me whatever you want. I'm an Asian American cis woman so I mostly use she/her pronouns, but I'll answer to anything since I'm comfortable with whatever.
- You're always welcome to contact me via inbox or IM as well as Discord (OrchestraHeart#0064). Be sure to let me know who you are or I won't respond.
- My blogs are semi-low activity as I work in a studio and hours are unpredictable. On that note, I live in Washington so I'm in the Pacific Time Zone.
- I have no personal triggers, but please let me know if you have any. Due to Tumblr's system I tag my trigger warnings as just THE THING without anything fancy around it or the letters tw or cw. I try to trigger tag with common sense but sometimes things slip through the cracks so please let me know. I just want rp to be a fun and safe place for everyone. If I forget to tag something for you, please let me know and I will correct it.
- On that note, I am also over the age of 21 but I am extremely selective with SEXUALLY EXPLICIT nsfw content. This is because when I was an underage minor on several occasions I was pressured into writing smut, which has made it an anxiety inducing experience. I was used a lot by others online so I am extremely hesitant to write it. Other topics are still on the table.

About My Blogs

- Blogs are open to all but mutuals get priority.
- Blogs are OC, crossover, multi-muse, and duplicate friendly.
- I multi-verse and multi-ship. This also means no cheating / crossover between interactions unless the muns have already agreed upon it first OOC.
- I will rp with multiples of canon characters. I think no two muses are exactly the same so I love playing with different people because they all have different takes and ideas on their muses.
- Ask memes are excellent icebreakers! Feel free to turn any of them into threads. It's up to you if you'd like to keep reblogging the ask or putting it in a new post. Personally, I reblog at least once so the meme context and your reply are on my blog and in your tag.
- I write in all rp forms, but multi paragraph content is likely to take me much longer than shorter interactions. It's hard to focus long enough to get them done quickly while with one liners my muses just speak to me and I write it down. You'll also probably never see prose from me, it's a little too high concept for my simple noggin.
- I can assure you that I've read your rules, but I don't send the password things. Also if I make a mistake, please let me know. There's a 99.9% chance that I forgot with the amount of rules pages I've gone through in my lifetime. I've been here since 2012.

The Actual Rules – there's literally only 2

- 1 . Absolutely no godmodding. I get it if you have to put my muses somewhere when you write me a starter to get them to interact but from there, I decide what they do.
- 2 . No instant ships! I am strictly chemistry only. Our muses can flirt with one another or develop crushes, but that doesn't mean it's a ship, even if it's canon unless we're both feeling it. Plotting that heads that direction is cool, but don't just like, approach me and assume that it's gonna happen automatically. Roleplay ships, like real life romantic relationships, are a two-way street.
On that note, this is the same for my other muses. If my muse isn't excited about the ship, I won't be either, and I'm not going to be able to respond. That doesn't mean I don't want to rp with you, but I'll probably drop that particular thread.

Acknowledgements

2/3 the icons I use are made by me. My ref tags cite all the icons, themes, or other things I've used on this blog. Dralanabloom made my mun icons of Liz Lemon. Meaningfulxwords made my Eleanor Shellstrop and Michael icons from The Good Place. She is also able to grant the gift of relief, or being able to revive the dead. To Ostara's annoyance, this ability is now associated with the Christian holiday named after her, Easter, with the credit all going to some other god called Jesus Christ. It's fine, though, she likes him. Them. There's multiple Jesuses for every denomination. In fact, they've formed their own tentative partnership. Ostara has chosen to happily lend her name to this Jesus, and in exchange, she remains relevant and people still celebrate her holiday the way they did in the old times, when people would celebrate in her own name. It's fine.
