Q:Oh, hello? Such an intense look!

A: Haha, am gonna take it as a compliment.

Q: Astrid Lindgren, I wonder what kind of story you hide behind those tattoos.

A: Nothing pleasant. I learnt to love them eventually, but I didn't get those just for fashion style.

Q: I remember, while we discussed the potential interview with you, you said you are okay with diving into your past. Does that still stand?

A: Sure, here goes. I lived with my parents for 9 years. It was hell, I tell you that. My mother used to beat me for the smallest things and my father wasn't much better. The day officials took me away from them and put me in an orphanage was my happiest day for a long time. A few years later I heard my parents overdosed on drugs, I wasn't surprised, I actually didn't feel a thing.

Q: I'm so sorry. That's truly horrible. And how was life in the orphanage?

A: It wasn't bad. If you can stand up for yourself it's a decent place. The problem is when you turn 18 and finish school. They just give you money for a few months of rent and kick you out.

No connections, no family, no special skills or job experience. You struggle to even find a place willing to rent you a flat.

Q: But in the end, you managed to get on your feet?

A: Hah, nothing that simple. I became a bouncer at some shady strip bar, at the darkest part of Tarfan, the capital. To avoid trouble and appear more dangerous I got myself many of those tattoos on skin and even eyes. Job got a lot easier from there.

The gang made me sell drugs to some visitors and I started to earn money while I hated myself whenever I remembered what drugs did to my family.

Q: And that was the point when you gathered enough credits to get your futacum tested?

A: Yeah, I was ecstatic when I heard the results. However, the very next day the police raided our place and I was sentenced to prison. Luckily I got to serve only half a year there before state officials took me out under contract to buy my special futacum. Still, not a pleasant experience.

Q: Can't even imagine how rough the life was on you. And what about nowadays?

A: Ahh, since I became a donor, life has become much, much better and fun. I put my dark past behind and became a personal gym trainer for males. It was my dream job so I found a way to connect it to my donor work.

Q: I can see the passion and excitement in those dark eyes of yours. Please tell us more details, and maybe the reason for the weird pricing of your special cum.

A: It's simple. The Republic buys most of the seed my balls manage to produce so the price for the public is extremely high. Only rich futas usually buy my pills for their males. Some even buy raw cum to add it to protein shakes of their male gym bros to secretly destroy their gains. And before you ask, I don't know and am not allowed to talk for what the Republic is using my product, but feel free to create your conspiracy theories.

Q: Ah, haha, yes. I bet some people's minds will run wild with that information. And what about getting fucked and pumped by you personally? The price seems very low.

A: Yeah, that's the fun part of my job. And it's combined with a gym session for free!

Q: And you only take strong males, I heard?

A: My futacum is about destroying muscles. That's the whole point, but I am willing to take any male for a ride.

At the clinic they told me the most likely reason for my special cum effect is my troubled childhood. Being abused by those stronger than me, made my body produce a substance to make everyone weaker. It works only on males, sure, but I really, really do love taking the strong ones and turning them into helpless cute weaklings. The stronger the man is, the cheaper I offer my services to him.

Q: So, let's say I am a male who buys you for a session. How does it go?

A: We go to the gym I work with. You show me how strong you are. How much you lift, how fast you run, how hard you push and pull. Then we train together until we are both fired up and sweaty, but not completely exhausted. Since the real fun is still ahead of us.

The reason why we are at this specific gym is because I got the deal to use a private changing room with a shower. So, just two of us hit the shower and can wash and rub each other's bodies and admire the hard work behind all those shiny muscles. Of course, If you want to focus your hands on my cock, I won't complain, haha.

Then comes the main show. Be it because you lost a bet, was talked into it by your futa or just love the feeling of your hard work being washed away by superior futanari, your body is about to be fucked into submission.

You can act like you don't want it and fight back to set up the mood. I love wrestling males into fuckable positions! My favourite one is standing full nelson.

Completely lifted in the air, feet above your head and your whole body nothing more than my fleshlight I can just impale on my huge hard futacock.

Your job is just to hang in there, let your little penis flop around and take my dick nice and deep. Keep trying to clench that hole to tell me how grateful you are for being remade from a strong king into a weak princess.

This is the part where I train. Not only my legs and arms to keep you in your place, but also my cock to stay hard and keep breaking you as long as possible. My record is six orgasms without pulling out!

When your belly is bulging with my seed and your strength is leaving you, I finally let you down. I take personal pride that no male is able to stand on his legs shaking legs once my cock pops out of his ass.

Don't worry, tho. I can carry you to the shower and we can just sit there on the floor.

Cleaning each other while you are ravished by the feeling of burning asshole and trembling limbs. We can stay there until you are able to stand again.

The more sessions we get, the longer it's going to take you to finally find strength to stand up again. Only just to beg me to make you even weaker next time.

Q: Very hot, but I can't imagine losing all my progress in the gym. Last question: How fast does your seed's special effect work?

A: You would be surprised how many males love to lose to strong futanari. The strong ones take four weeks of intense sessions while just the athletic types are done for in a week of futacum pumping.
