I'm glad you're here

Welcome to the 2023 edition of the Ultimate Annual Review. Whether embarking on this process for the first time or returning for another introspective adventure, I'm thrilled you're here. Your trust and commitment to this process are deeply acknowledged, honored, and respected. I see you.

Now in its sixth year, the Ultimate Annual Review has crossed 25,000 downloads, impacting lives in over 80 countries. This year, while retaining the core structure, I've added new quotes for inspiration and expanded instructions to further guide your experience. I also published a Spotify playlist to be your musical companion as you delve into the depths of your experiences and dreams.

A theme close to my heart this holiday season is "enoughness"—an invitation to embrace ourselves and the present as uniquely perfect and complete. As I considered adding new sections and questions to this process, I realized its current form might already be ideal. What if it perfectly meets our needs? What if it's not lacking anything? How does my impulse to add more features to an already powerful exercise reflect an insecurity?

This leads to an even broader question: what if you, in this moment, are inherently complete and perfect, just as you are?

As you reflect on 2023 and envision 2024, I encourage you to savor the unique beauty of your path, including its twists and turns. Recognize that every experience, every choice, every relationship, and every moment has shaped your unique and remarkable story.

With 2024 upon us, I encourage you to embrace this notion of enoughness and self-worth, celebrating your present completeness. Simultaneously, acknowledge and honor your latent potential and possibilities. Remember, you are enough as you are, yet you also hold the promise of tremendous growth and evolution.

So, celebrate and embrace who you are, not just for your achievements or future ambitions, but for your inherent qualities, embracing both your radiant light and your darkest shadows. In this new year, may you honor your wholeness and carry a sense of enoughness, while remaining open to the unfolding of your untapped potential and future possibilities.

With that, it's time to begin the 2023 Ultimate Annual Review. I wish you a holiday season filled with love, light, and special moments.

Step 1: Plot Your Moments & Milestones

"You can't connect the dots looking forward; you can only connect them looking backwards. So you have to trust that the dots will somehow connect in your future."

Steve Jobs

This initial step is all about taking a walk down memory lane and charting the significant events of your year. It's a time to pause and reflect on the moments that have shaped you—the triumphs, the challenges, and everything in between. This exercise isn't just about recalling events and moments; it's about recognizing the narrative arc of your year. By constructing a timeline, you'll gain a clearer, more comprehensive view of your journey through 2023. So grab your calendar, journal, or any other source that captures your story, and let's start plotting this chapter of your life.

Without reflection, we go blindly on our way, creating more unintended consequences, and failing to achieve anything useful."

Margaret J. Wheatley

This stage of our journey invites you to dive deep into the heart of your experiences over the past year. It's a space for you to engage with your emotions, celebrate your achievements, and confront your challenges. Here, honesty and vulnerability are key. You'll be reflecting on successes, learning from obstacles, and understanding the impact of relationships in your life. Parker Palmer

With a clear and open mind, you'll assess aspects ranging from health and family to career and spirituality. This isn't just about scoring each dimension; it's a thought-provoking exercise to gain perspective on your overall well-being and satisfaction. Be honest and intuitive as you rate each area, and let this assessment guide you in identifying the facets of your life you're most motivated to focus on and nurture in 2024.

Elisabeth Kubler-Ross

This step marks a pivotal transition from reflection to action. Here, we transform insights and intentions into tangible goals and actions for 2024. This step is about defining what success looks like for you, understanding the significance of each goal, and laying out a practical action plan. Remember, the goals you set here are the milestones you'll strive towards in the first three

Step 6: Write To Your Future Self

"The future depends on what you do today."

Mahatma Gandhi

You've reached the final step in your annual review journey. You now have the unique opportunity to communicate with your future self. It's a moment to encapsulate your current thoughts, feelings, aspirations, and lessons into a message that will reach you in the future. Think of it as a time capsule of self-reflection, a personal reminder of where you were at this point in time. As you write this letter, be honest, hopeful, and heartfelt. What you capture today will be a beacon for your future self, a reminder of your journey and growth. Embrace this chance to connect with the person you are yet to become. What do you want them to know about you, your life, and your future right now?
