Subject line: Significant Advancements (Proposal)

Hi Luke,

Another stranger in your inbox...

I know, annoying right?...

Trust me... This one's worth it.

You've made some significant changes recently:

Creating the CYD Academy FB Group in February...

A new Youtube channel with a different style of videos...

and a WIX website along with a twitter that remain undeveloped for the time being...

I can only assume that something is on the rise...

That's the reason we need to connect.

You've got the trusting audience and I've got the digital skills to turn them into $$$.

You want to teach them how to live like you...

And I know how to help you make serious money while doing so...

I chose you specifically because you are at the perfect stage for me to hop in and help.

With just a few of my marketing efforts, I'm positive you will see huge results!

I'd like to show you the most recent example of my work...

Although it hardly scratches the surface of my skills...

You can start to understand what I mean when I say I can help.

Is it okay if I send it over?

Thanks,
