Round 2 (Chapter 8)

| | |
|---|---|
| 1. O'brien tells Winston that they will meet "in the place where there is no darkness," (Orwell 178). | 2. O'brien makes it clear that to join the Brotherhood means that "you will be fighting in the dark. You will always be in the dark. You will receive orders and obey them, without knowing why…You will get no comradeship and no encouragement… When you are finally caught, you will get no help…We are the dead"(Orwell 174-176). |
| 3. Winston is told to expect a book from the Brotherhood to be delivered in a briefcase–Winston's briefcase–that he will be instructed to leave at home. | 4. Julia is OK if Winston and she are to be separated from one another. |

Directions: Circle your initial group answer in pencil. Then, once Ms. G gives you the right answer, circle the correct answer in marker.
