So what are you waiting for?

Back-testing

One of the most annoying things with trading strategies is collecting the data only to find out after all that work they aren't profitable.

You no longer have to wait to find out if your strategy is profitable or not. Plug it into our software and it will tell you how profitable the strategy is!

You can then add this to your strategies. Therefore you will get those profitable selections daily!

Easy to use

We've made sure our software is as easy to use as possible! We've created an extensive video library following over the shoulder videos breaking down how to get the most from this software.

There's also an inbuilt support system to get your personalized problems solved.

Then there's also the community of members helping others.

It's the easiest, quickest and best profit inducing software out there!

Potential Strategies

One of the questions traders asked us was 'it's all well and good having software but I need it to generate strategies.'

We agree, unlike some of the others out there we are traders first. Which means that we are using this software day in and day out. We will be working hard to build profitable strategies that we shall share with our profitable strategies.

Using our software you will be able to build your own profitable strategies - in less than 24 hours you will be able to have your potential strategies tested and ready to use.

The data and strategies you want

This software has been built by one of Betfair's best horse traders ever! Who knows the importance of the individual and every trader wants different data and different strategies.

This is why you can add any of the data you want and build the EXACT strategy that you want to build - we have every piece of data and can build ANY trading strategy you could think of.
