

Kill Team Hobby Track Painting Rubric 2024

Below are questions that capture effort and skill. The first few involve painting/brush skills. The second group involves hobby, visual composition and theme. The final is the display and how well each army is presented to the judges. Next to each criteria will be a check box. Each check mark equals 5 pts.

A modifier on the points will be applied as normal for the size of the event. Via the rules document.

Subjective scores take into account everything from the best they have ever seen (Max) to no paint/commision painted (0).

Kill Team Hobby Track Showcase Painting Rubric 2025

Painting
Is the army Fully Painted (no primer showing)?
Is the majority of the army shaded and or highlighted?
Are three or more layers of highlighting present across the entire army?
Are advanced details like grenades, buckles, claws, eyes, gems, rivets, bone shards/teeth and lenses painted across the entire army?
Are advanced techniques like OSL, weathering, camouflage, glowing, NMM or freehand over the majority of the army present?
Subjective painterly score.	/40
Basing
Is the basing consistent across the entire army and/or match the display or story?
Are multiple elements and features visible/painted on the bases for a majority of the army?
Hobby
Are there examples of kitbashing or conversion work present for the majority of the army?
Were all the mold lines removed and gaps filled over the majority of the army?
Are advanced hobby materials used like plasticard, milliput, or greenstuff?
Subjective use of hobby.	/20
Display
Is there a display board? And does the display board fit within the required area of 15x11" or 12x12"
Is there a background and or a clear story present?
Is there an exceptional display board that shows effort and artistic talent above and beyond the norm?
Subjective judgment of display board.	/20
Total
In the event of a tie, judges will use their discretion to apply points and determine a winner.	