15

- (a) Transfer of cooking gas connection

- 3.(A) Sumit Electronics, Surat, have asked you to supply goods worth Rs. 2,00,000/- on credit for 30 days. Inquiries show that they have a limited working capital and are trying to expand their business too rapidly. Draft a suitable reply persuading them to buy in smaller lots.

OR

You have received an inquiry from Tejas & Sons, Surat, about the financial standing of Soni Traders, Mumbai. You have had highly satisfactory business dealings with them in the past. Draft your reply.

(B) Draft a letter on Ashutosh Trading Agency, Baroda to Diamond Stores, Thane about the payment of a bill of Rs. 1,90,000/- for the goods delivered four months ago. Make it clear that unless the bill is paid within a week, legal action might be the only solution.

OR

Write the first reminder to Sunny Stores, Pune for collection of the over dues of Rs. 85,000/-. Remind them that the payment is necessary for a healthy business relationship.

4.(A) Draft a representation letter on behalf of residents of your locality to the Commissioner of Police drawing his attention to the frequent incidents of thefts, stealing and growing crime in the locality. It's been said countless times that "breakfast is the most important meal of the day". But not many people seem convinced. Some school-children and office-goers are still leaving home without it and weight-watchers are still giving breakfast a miss. "I am not hungry in the morning," is the commonest explanation.

Even if you don't recognize it as hungers, the body does give out signals that it is low on fuel. For instance, studies of school-children (aged 9-11) show that those who skip breakfast have a slower reaction time and more muscle fatigue in school sports. The average scores are lower on written tests, compared to breakfast-eaters. To the teacher, such children could look listless, which they may be because they haven't had the protein that really wakes up the brain. (After an overnight fast, the blood sugar level drops. Strangely it takes protein, not sugar, to build it up again.) Office workers who skip breakfast are usually big consumers of office tea and coffee - a means of staying alert and suppressing hunger. Adult breakfast skippers may have trouble concentrating on work and show lower work output. They are also likelier to be irritable and impatient at work, clock-watching frequently for the lunch-hour. Fatigue, anxiety, forgetfulness, confusion, indecision - all these have linked to low blood sugar levels, usually caused by hunger. If any of that sounds familiar, may be what you need is breakfast. Some nutrients like proteins and calcium are better absorbed if they are taken in small quantities several times a day. A packed lunch and a big dinner cannot make up for nutrition missed in the 'a.m'. What goes into a good breakfast? Protein for mental alertness and carbohydrates to give the body some get-up and go. Small amounts of fat and sugar are okay, but just enough to tempt the appetite.

Q.5 (A) Draft a sales letter to promote the sale of any one of the following:-

10

- (i) Home delivery service for breakfast, Lunch and dinner.
- (ii) Washing machine with dryer facility

(B) Write short note on any one of the following:-

10

- (i) Advantages ad disadvantages of Fax
- (ii) E-mail and its advantages

4.(A) Draft a representation from the residents of Royal Housing Society, Thane to the President of the society to draw attention to the poor condition of the buildings and ask for immediate building repairs and painting work. It is not mere coincidence that the words 'Women' and 'Water' are both five letter words beginning with the alphabet 'W'. One needs to be in a woman's shoes to know the importance of water in her life.

From morning till dawn water plays a significant role in her life. Apart from drinking water, she fetches water for cooking, washing, bathing, cleaning, gardening etc.

But there is a deeper and intrinsic relationship between women and water. Pregnant women need sufficient water in the womb to keep their babies healthy and alive. A woman's blood volume increases during pregnancy and she needs to drink enough water each day to prevent common problems such as dehydration and constipation. Before a woman gives birth, "her water bursts," signifying that the baby is ready to take birth. Hence water and women are indeed synonymous.

In rural India, it is the woman's prime responsibility to collect water. Studies reveal that one-third of a woman's time per day is spent on fetching water. In parts of North East India where unregulated coal mining has poisoned rivers and water sources, women and young girls walk up to six kilometers everyday to fetch drinking water losing out on productive work and studies.

Women know how important it is to conserve water because they expend maximum energy in fetching it. Give this reality and the fact that women are the best users and managers of water, should women not have a voice in deciding the water policies of this country? Should they not be part of the decision making processes when the state decided to dam big rivers; or decided to allow areas for mining and quarrying purposes?

Today gender is a crucial issue and has become a major cross-cutting theme in policy making and implementation. At this point it is important to remind the state of the need to do a gender analysis of water policies. Even allocation of resources implementing water policies should have an element of gender budgeting to ensure that women are not marginalized in terms of their access to and control over water resources.

Among the many rights that are being legislated, the right to water or water justice has not received the priority it deserves. It is the obligation of the state to give its citizens the right of access to adequate water. But considering that the state is also pulled in different directions in trying to generate resources from mining and other extractive policies, it becomes incumbent for NOGs like IGSSS (Indo – Global Social Service Society) to remind the state of its prime obligation – to create a water secure future.

The state ought to analyse and revisit its water policies and analyse if they are adequate to safeguard the basic water requirements of its citizens. Wherever rivers have been poisoned the state has to intervene and reclaim such waters and do a thorough scientific clean-up job.
