

Privacy Policy

Last Updated December 23, 2023

This privacy notice for FletchTechLabs (“we,” “us,” or “our”), describes how and why we might collect, store, use, and/or share (“process”) your information when you use our services (“services”) or application (“app,” “application”), such as when you:

- Download and use our mobile application (“PocAVert”) or any other application of ours that links to this privacy notice.
- Engage with us in other related ways, including any sales, marketing, and/or events.

Questions or concerns? Reading this privacy notice will help you understand your privacy rights and choices. If you do not agree with our policies or practices, please do not use our services or application. If you still have any questions or concerns, please contact us at fletchtechlabs@gmail.com.

Summary of key points

This summary provides key points from our privacy notice, but you can find out more details about any of these topics by referring to the different sections contained within this document.

Do we process any sensitive personal information?

We do not process, collect, or store any personal information.

Do we receive any information from third parties?

We do not receive any of your personal information from any third parties.

How do we store your personal information?

We do not process, collect, or store any personal information.

What are your rights?

Depending on where you are located geographically, the applicable privacy laws may mean you have certain rights regarding your personal information. We encourage you to research your privacy rights as they apply to you.

What Personal Identifiable Information Do We collect?

We do not collect any information about our users, nor do we store information. Our applications are based solely on the device of the user. No information is obtained when you use, download, or delete the application that is stored by our company. We do not own, operate, or have access to a database or server to store you information, nor do we wish to. We value your privacy and do not wish to be responsible for your data. Users do not register in any way within our application, nor do we track their actions while using our application.

The only information that is transmitted off your device in connection with our application/service is your device information that Google ad services (AdMob) uses for personalization of your ad experience. This includes the device's ID information used by Google Services. It is important to understand that we at FletchTechLabs do not store this information in any way and it is transmitted directly to Google AdMob.

The only event that we would have any access to your personal information is when you submit a contact email to our support team through our application. This process uses whatever your selected email provider is on your device and the information transferred to our Google email account would be whatever information you have chosen to share with our team. We encourage you to NOT provide information that is not relevant to the support topic. Having your name, address, or other personal information does not assist our team in working your support cases, so please only include the issue in question in your emails. If you only include the issue in your email body, the only information that we will receive is your body and your email address.

Third Party Applications/Websites

This application/service may contain links to other applications or websites that are not controlled or owned by our company. If you click on a third-party link, you will be directed to that site or application. Again, please note that these external sites are not operated by our company. Therefore, we strongly advise you to review the Privacy Policy for these applications/websites. We have no control over and assume no responsibility for the content, privacy policies, or practices of any third-party site or service.

The following are links to the third-party service providers used by the application at the code level:

- Google Play Services
- AdMob

Children's Privacy

When it comes to the collection of personal information from children under the age of 13, the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) puts parents in control. The Federal Trade Commission, the nation's consumer protection agency, enforces the COPPA rule, which spells out what users of the application must do to protect children's privacy and safety online. I do not collect personal data from a child under the age of 13. In the event that I learn that I have collected personal information from a child under the age of 13 without a parent's consent, I will delete that information as quickly as possible. If you believe that I might have any information collected from a child under the age of 13, please contact our support team at fletchtechlabs@gmail.com. My services/applications are not directed to children and are not to be used by any person under the age of 13.

GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) Act

Yes, adapt my privacy policy to be compliant with GDPR. Notice to EU Individuals: This Privacy Policy is intended to comply with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council (The GDPR). It was adopted on 14 April 2016 and became enforceable beginning 25 May 2018 to provide appropriate protection and care with respect to the treatment of user's personal information in accordance with the GDPR.

Changes to this Policy

For various reasons, this privacy policy will be updated from time to time. Users are advised to review this page periodically for any changes or updates to this policy. These changes are effective immediately after they are updated to this page. In the event that you disagree or do not understand the statements contained in this privacy notice, please immediately exit our applications and avoid the use of our services or applications.
