

JCSP Demonstration Library Project

Jean Henefer has been the school librarian at Larkin Community College since 2022. Following a period of teaching History in London, Jean returned to Ireland and completed a MLIS and PhD at UCD. Her professional journey in Ireland began as a Research Development Officer for a number of educational support services including the JCSP, the National Behaviour Support Service and the National Council for Special Education. For more than a decade, Jean held an occasional lecturer position in the School of Information and Communication Studies at UCD where she taught the MLIS module Children and Youth Information Services. In her capacity as a researcher, Jean spent a good deal of time in the Larkin Library as the then principal and librarian graciously agreed to participate in a mixed method study which culminated in the publication of More Than a Room for Reading (2008) a follow up study to Room for Reading (Haslett, 2005).
