App

This is a challenging and fun quiz game about the lesser-known facts and notorious quirks of all countries in the world. Most of the topics are about oddities of culture, natural wonders, eccentric world records, strange jurisdictions, crazy things in politics, and a good measure of surprising twists in history.
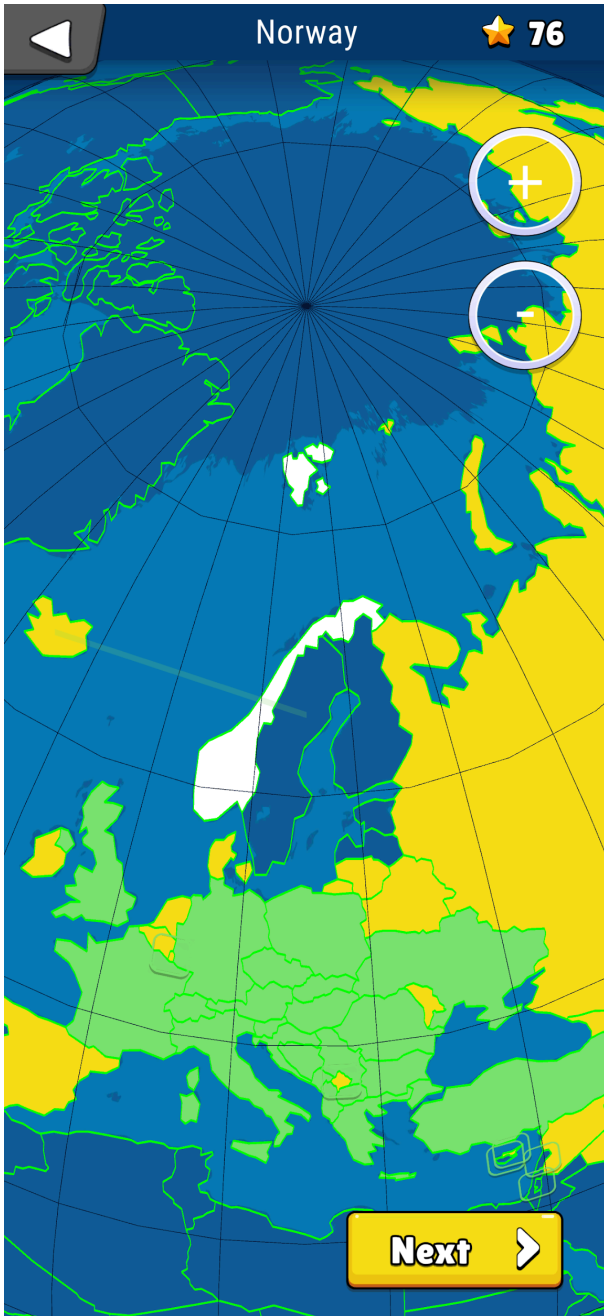

It's much more entertaining than an ordinary geography questionnaire app!

Pudding - in all flavors and any consistency - is a popular Christmas food. In Slovakia and parts of Ukraine, pudding not only warms the heart, but can also predict the future: the oldest male member of a family takes a spoonful of the loksa pudding and throws it at the ceiling. The more pudding sticks, the more luck you will have. It's as simple as that.

The developer behind this app is Weltraumerei.com. It is the label of a private person and an artificial German word for dealing with the space and universe in a gamified manner. And the person is me, Chris, a fan of astronomy and games. And he is too lazy to make a professional website. :-)

How To Play

In the app go to the settings and click in the button "How to Play" for the following text:

The goal of the game is to explore all countries and get some knowledge of foreign cultures in an entertaining way!

Light green countries are already explored and green countries are their neighbors and to be explored.
When you click on such a country you get prompted questions about this country.

Each question round has four questions. The number of green circles corresponds to the number of questions you must answer correctly to successfully explore the country.

If the questions are answered correctly, the circles are filled in. In this case, you have successfully explored the country and receive a star for each correct answer!

Small countries only require one correct answer, but large countries require up to four correct answers and are therefore difficult to research. You can try as many times as you like. You can crack such stubborn countries with diplomacy. It reduces the number of correct answers required.

When there are no more questions for a country you get prompted with questions about the continent or about the world. If you explore a continent, then you receive a reward.

FAQ

Q: I answered all questions correctly, but why was the country not conquered?

A: This can happen. Bigger countries are harder to conquer. It depends on the kind and difficulty of the questions. If it is too hard, use diplomacy then.

Q: Should I save or spend my stars?

A: It might make sense to save some dozens of your stars. You can use the stars for diplomacy. You can also buy stars in the shop.

Q: Hey, my country is not listed in the game / has the wrong borders / has the wrong name!

A: The game uses the list of countries from the United Nations (UN). Some very small countries like islands or enclaves / exclaves of countries are not in the game. The country borders are simplified and may not always be correct. When the political map changes in real life these changes will take a while until they are in the game.

A: How do I write a good review?

Q: Just be honest and add some text. In Google Play Store one star is the worst, five stars is the best.
Problems with the download and installation must not be in a review as this is outside the influence of app developers. Obviously, unintended behavior like crashes are better solved by contacting the support.
Voting bad because you miss a wanted feature is contra productive. Voting good supports the further app development.

Q: How to not send my personal information and agree to this legal stuff at startup?

A: A dialog to legal text at startup is a good thing and is required in many countries. The developer writes which data is acquired, collected and sent and used by whom.

Q: I have a new device. How to transfer the game progress / savegame?

A: This is currently not supported. The feature cloud save will come soon.
