

"Winter Wonderland Special Event Prompt"

You are hereby invited to the Royal Palace in Versii to attend the Winter Wonderland Ball! It is a prestigious event where the royal family comes out to mingle with the common folk. Everyone will be attending. The party will be hosted in the floating palace, though there will also be festivities on the lake below. There will be dancing, singing, food and drink and much merriment to be had. At midnight each night there will also be a magical light display hosted by some volunteers from the Order of Affinity where they will create a a disco-like display using light magic and the crystallized floating dew formations. Santa is also said to be making an appearance, well, at the very least mysterious presents will be given out to all! What is your beanling doing at the Winter Wonderland event? Are they partying at the palace? Are they enjoying the festivities on the lake perhaps? Did they manage to sneak a peak at Santa? Maybe they are trying their hand at the light show and showing off their magic skills? What kind of gift did they receive?
