

Privacy Policy

of the "iSi technology Navi"

Introduction to iSi technology Navi app

The App "iSi technology Navi" is the property of iSi technology Inc. and working only with our software for medical transportation. You can't use it without an account on our platform, as a result, this App is the part of web-service and become a property of the business account that user has on our platform. Users of this App are employees of the user business account.

This App can't be used by users that are not an employee of the company.

Information that we received from users of this App

We are using an info about IMEI and Serial Number of the device for our automatically connect with our web services to display it geo position on the map for dispatching orders within the company. We can't receive this info without allowance of the user of the device.

We don't use other personal information of the owners of the device that are using our app.