

Format

Best of 5

Modified DSR full set. If you are picking a stage, you cannot go to the stage you last won on. Alternatively, both players may agree to ignore this rule.

If necessary, before the set begins, players may call a TO for double blind character picks for round 1, and after that the winner of each round announces their character first.

If the connection between two players is unplayable, and a TO cannot determine a player with worse connection, the players may decide who moves on, or a separate form of competition to decide. (EX: RPS)

TOs can adjust rules mid-tournament if deemed fit. (EX: a game breaking bug is discovered.)

Stage Picks and Bans

At the start of the set, players will ban one stage each from the starter stages and then play on the remaining stage.

The winning player of each round may ban 1 stage from the list for the next round only, while the loser picks the next stage.
