Demon Aussies the Nice Ones

species ----- is temp closed (ask if you would like to make one. Refs for the specie is be slowly worked on)

Likes: meats, bones and most vegetables (vegetarian are ok)

Dislikes: mean cats and mean demons

The Demon Aussie the nice ones were originally just your ordinary Australian Shepherds that were lured through a small portal in a big dog head shaped cave with bacon. They were captured by big mean demons and then forced to work on the demon's spirit wisps farms. The big mean demons conducted experiments on the poor Aussies, they used demon magic and demon blood from the demons they had working for them. Theses experiments made the Australian Sheppard become mixed with demon horses to make them big and strong but they also used demon bovine and found out they were to strong and they loved to lift big heavy items but where also where like dogs, and the big mean demons were glad they were nice and could could control them. They mixed a demon fox and found that they made a super hyper and creature who loves to play tricks. The big mean demons found that all the Aussies they experimented on loved to play and round up spirit wisps that hung around the farms. The big mean demons conducted one more experiment with a demon kangaroo and found out the kangaroo was a good guard for the farms and was like all the rest of the demon Aussie and had way too much energy like on a super sugar rush. All the demon Aussie stayed in the big barn and found out they look very similar to each other and realized the big mean demons had changed them into what they are now and noticed they were all once Australian Shepherds from earth. They all decided that they would work together to learn to use their new demon powers to get back home to earth. Over the next few years they worked together and captured the big mean demons and found out they had been working on another Aussie and they got his location and found him and realized the Aussie had been mixed with a Cerberus demon. They spent the next few years running the farm and forcing the mean demons to teach them magic and they finally learned all they could and went back to the cave and reopened the portal to earth. They realized they couldn't close the portal once they went through it, but the cerebus Aussies said let's all go home and he would guard it so no others would have to deal with what they had to. Due to what the cerberus demon Aussie said they all went through the portal and when they got back to earth they stayed near the portal to help the cerebus out. They notice that spirit wisps would go back forth from the demon world and earth. So they started their own farm. The Demon Aussie found out that they lived in the demon world for 500 years and now the world has changed and the humans are now more advanced and are willing to work with the demon Aussie the nice one, which they decided to be called for that's what they are.

Demon aussies are friendly and love to play with spirit wisp. Since they have escaped the evils of the demon world (where they were forced to work for evil and mean demons) to live here on Earth and they love hugs and playing and rounding up spirit wisp(have been known to round up other creatures as well for fun or for work). They work hard and love to play even harder.

There are 5 types of demon Aussies. They must be an Australian Shepherd and demon mix of any kind of the following(due to the demon's blood and magic), hybrid of kangaroo, fox, bovine, horse mixed with them. (They can not be mixed with insects, spiders, or any type of bird, no cats, reptiles, amphibians and fish.) The demon aussie the nice ones are land base creatures. They can also be just an Australian Shepherd mixed with a demon.

They must have spikes on the tail a minimum of 3(any location). They will either have spikes on the back and/or the head. Horns are optional (horns count as spikes). Little note, demon Aussies that are not adults just have spikes on the tail.

They are primarily colored the same as an Australian Shepherd but due to the demon part they can have additional colors of any variant of blue, grey, red, green, yellow and orange.

This can not be used unless the creator of the demon Aussie the nice ones allows it. You can not and will not call this your own or trace any pictures of any fursonas unless given direct permission to do so. If you wish to join the demon Aussies please pm me and we'll talk.