Digital Portfolio Checklist

Your Digital Portfolio is a public document, meaning that anyone can access your work via the Internet. Therefore, it is crucial to illustrate your best work on your DP. In order to ensure that you truly are publishing your best work, complete the following checklist.

Necessary Requirement/Content	Self Check	Peer Check/Peer Name	Comments
I have created a Welcome Page with a professional title and it includes my first name.
I have created a 9th grade Multimedia page with links to all of my completed projects.
I have created a 9th Grade Humanities page with links to all of my completed projects.
I have created a 9th grade Math/Physics page with links to all of my completed projects.
I have created a Book Blog that includes all the books I have read so far.
My DP has been proofread by me and a peer.
There are NO spelling errors on my DP
There are NO grammar errors on my DP
For each project there is an introduction before the work. (This allows my reader to understand the project and what I did for the project. You can often use the project description from your teachers' DPs to help you with this)

I have written a reflection for each project explaining what I learned, my perceptions, what interests me, using our Class Values
I have uploaded pictures relevant to each project and cited sources of any images or data that is NOT my original work.
