The aim of our homework policy is to promote learning beyond the school day as an essential part of good education. We believe that homework not only reinforces classroom learning, it also helps children and young people to develop skills and attitudes that they need for successful lifelong learning.

Daily Reading and Weekly Homework

Children in our classes are expected to read Arabic daily for at least 10 minutes, given that arabic is not the first language for most students it is essential that they get as much exposure to the arabic language as possible.

Weekly homework:

All children must do their best to complete the homework and parents must support the children in this. Arabic is a very beautiful and elegant language which requires time and effort to learn. Relying on the once a week class time is not sufficient for this.

Important

Your child's homework must be completed on time. Children who do not complete homework will be supported in doing so in school. However, your child's class teacher will contact you if more than three pieces of homework in a term are not completed in order to discuss potential barriers and what can be done to support homework being completed.

If you have any questions about homework please don't hesitate to drop in and ask Mr Ahmed or Mr Ilyas. We are always happy to help with any queries you may have.

If you want to send in homework via email please use the school email address and include the class your child is in. This will then be sent on to your child's class teacher.
