

Links and Resources from BPL Podcast “Celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month” with special guests Pamela Epsinosa de los Monteros and Dr. Patti Vocal from the OSU Center for Latin American Studies

Latinx and Latin American Children's Books

- Guadalajara International Book Fair ALA-Book Free Pass program- A program to support librarians in purchasing Spanish-language books as well as building Spanish-language collections:
<https://www.ala.org/aboutala/offices/iro/awardsactivities/guadalajarabook>
- Online resources on Latinx and Latin American children's books:
 - Latinx in Kids Books: <https://latinosinkidlit.com/>
 - De Colores: The Raza Experience in Books for Children:
<http://decoloresreviews.blogspot.com/>

CLAS Bookbox Libguides

- CLAS BookBox LibGuides created with MLIS students from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign
 - Exploring Latin America in Picture Books and Poetry:
<https://guides.osu.edu/BookBox>
 - Black/Afro-Latinx identity: <https://guides.osu.edu/c.php?g=1137995>
 - Indigenous populations in Latin America:
<https://guides.osu.edu/c.php?g=1138000>
 - Portuguese and Brazil in Picture Books:
<https://guides.osu.edu/c.php?g=1228014>

Events and family programs (in Columbus, OH)

- Dancing with Devils: Latin American Mask Traditions exhibit at the Barnett Center Collaboratory (141 Sullivant Hall). The exhibit features Latin American festival masks from The Ohio State University's Kawsay Ukhunchay Andean and Amazonian Indigenous Arts and Cultural Artifacts Research Collection along with documentary photographs of the Diablada de Píllaro (Devils Dance of Píllaro, Ecuador) taken by Ohio State Photojournalist Leonardo Carrizo:
<https://barnettcenter.osu.edu/programs-0/dancing-devils>
- Latino Arts for the Humanities Día de los Muertos Celebration at Green Lawn Cemetery on October 8th, 2022:
<https://www.greenlawncemetery.org/events/event-detail/54195-el-dia-de-los-muertos-day-of-the-dead>

- Biblioteca Pirilampo (Little Library) of Brazilian-Portuguese books at Ohio State. Follow the library on Instagram and check back for its inauguration in Fall 2022:
https://www.instagram.com/pirilampo_littlelibrary/